

DETROIT STRIKERS DEFY ORDER OF COURT

GOOD SPORTS TODAY'S NEED JUSTICE SAYS

Supreme Court Jurist Decries Losers' Wailings

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Professor Edward S. Corwin of Princeton University asserted today a majority of the Supreme Court members had "forgotten their supreme obligation" to interpret the Constitution as a broad document written for "an undefined future."

The gray-haired, bespectacled professor of constitutional law testified before the Senate judiciary committee in behalf of President Roosevelt's court reorganization program.

As committee members assembled for the hearing they privately discussed the criticism voiced by Supreme Justice James McReynolds of persons who complain about adverse court decisions.

Speaking at a banquet of his college fraternity last night, McReynolds, 75, who has consistently voted against Roosevelt administration measures, said:

"The evidence of good sportsmanship is that a man who has had a chance to present a fair case to a fair tribunal must be a good sport and accept the outcome."

Senatorial Comment
Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) refused to comment publicly on Justice McReynolds' speech, but Senator Burke (D-Neb.) remarked that the justices' statement was "very well put and very appropriate at this time."

Senator Logan (D-Ky.) said the Justice was "entirely within his rights." Similar comment was made by Senator Hatch (D-N.M.).

Senator Minton (D-Ind.) a fraternity brother of the Justice, commented that he had never regarded the Supreme Court as an "umpire"—but rather one of the coordinate branches of government and therefore a member of the team.

The McReynolds comment revived talk of calling members of the court before the committee.

Ashurst reiterated that if any Justice ever hinted he wanted to be heard, he would be invited.

Losers Complain
In his extemporaneous address, McReynolds said that some attorneys after losing a case complain that the court which heard it was unfair.

"Thousands and thousands of things come before the courts that are settled to general satisfaction," he said. "If things come that are not settled to the satisfaction of all, put yourself in place of the courts and see if you could have done better."

"Even in Christianity itself we have acrimonious discussions. Congregation 'A' says it will not go with congregation 'B'. But if the great congregation says it has a great underlying purpose, there is success."

His impromptu speech contained the first indirect references to the President's reorganization program by any of the nine justices. He did not mention by name Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the bench if justices over 70 do not retire.

McReynolds' remarks diverted some attention from the fifth day of Senate judiciary committee hearings on the President's bill.

Speech a Surprise
The speech of Justice McReynolds who has voted against 14 New Deal laws and supported 20, surprised the 125 dinner guests. At former banquets he had discussed only fraternity affairs.

It also broke precedent in that the Justice had never spoken at a public gathering.

State Department Intrigue
Judge Walton Moore, aged assistant secretary of state, is pulling all sorts of secret wires to get promoted to be under secretary. Ambassador Bill Bull has even gone all the way to Warm Springs to plead Moore's case with Roosevelt.

The judge, however, is having a tough time getting around two things. One is his 78 years coupled with the President's stand on the Supreme court age-limit.

The other is the judge's sudden and secret move in banning medical missions to Spain. American relief missions to war-stricken countries have been sent since the founding of this republic, and Moore's action—without consulting his superiors—got him in Dutch. He seemed to think that the question of U. S. neutrality and Spain was his own special baby.

New Idea
Senator "Little Morrie" Sheppard of Texas, unsentimental chairman of the military affairs committee and father of the late prohibition amendment, has evolved a new idea for Senate hearings—the cross-examination of one witness by another. Hitherto cross-examination was a right reserved only to senators or their investigators.

Blarney Stone

Precious Piece Honored in Capital Plain Cement

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—St. Patrick's day brought a solution to the Capital's great Irish mystery — Postmaster General James Aloysius Farley did not import a hunk of the Blarney Stone to America.

For two weeks sons of the Emerald Isle have been agog over a rumor that the genial cabinet officer procured a slab of the famous rock last summer on his triumphant tour of the Shamrock country.

It started when one John J. Daly—red-headed son of Erin—staggered into an office building on Pennsylvania Avenue bearing a strange looking weighty object.

"Shh," he whispered to one Guy Collins—another son of Erin—"close the door quick."

"What's that chunk of cement for?" asked Collins.

"Cement nothing," snorted Daly. "You're looking at a piece of the Blarney Stone."

The color faded from Collins' face.

"Postmaster General Farley," explained Daly, "brought it back from Ireland. That's all I can tell you."

Prayer in Gaelic
Springfield, Ill., March 17.—(AP)—The senate chaplain, the Rev. John Diggins, a native of Kilarney, Ireland, recited the Lord's Prayer in Gaelic.

The senate and house calendars were printed in green ink. The legislators wore green ties, flowers and emblems. Senator Earl Searcy, Springfield Republican, arising to the point of personal privilege, eulogized the patron saint of Ireland.

It was the General Assembly's observance of St. Patrick's Day. The lawmakers held their annual St. Patrick's dinner last night.

you. I want to leave it here for safe keeping."

Collins kept it safely all right. He put it in a safe and then went out and called the policeman on the beat. After hearing the tale, the patrolman stuck his head in the strong box and kissed the stone.

Word of the "precious" object flew about the city with the speed and accuracy of a well-pitched shillalah, bringing down scores of Irish gentry to view the rock.

The truth came out after Daly lugged the 19 pound rock off to a St. Patrick's party and one O'Reilly got him on the telephone.

"If it's not a piece of the Blarney Stone," he demanded indignantly, "then what is it?"

"Just something," replied Daly with a loud guffaw. "I dug up in the back yard."

(Editor's note: This story can not be completed until a man named Collins finds a man named Daly.)

BROADCAST TONIGHT
New York, March 17.—(AP)—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Postmaster General James A. Farley, political "foes" since Smith took his famous "walk" from the Democratic party, will sit down together, less than ten feet apart, at a St. Patrick's Day dinner here tonight.

In addition, as speakers at the 154th anniversary banquet of the Society of Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, both will broadcast—first Farley, then Smith—over the same radio network (NBC, 9:15 to 10 P. M., CST.)

A toast to Smith's one-time close friend, the President of the United States, forms part of the program.

MEDUSA PLANT EMPLOYEES ARE GIVEN HONORS

Cement Manufacturers Present Watches to Seventeen Men

Seventeen employees of the Medusa cement company plant here will be honored this evening at a banquet and program, tendered by the company to the 300 employees of the Dixon mills, at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple at 6:15.

After the roast turkey banquet, the 17 employees who have been in the service of company for 25 years will be presented with gold watches. President J. B. John of Cleveland, Ohio, who arrived in Dixon early this morning from California, will make the presentations.

President John, Vice President H. Vanderwerp, P. G. Dawson, treasurer and A. T. McCormack, general sales manager from Cleveland; L. E. DeCamp, western sales manager from Chicago and Marjorie Price, district sales manager, were out of town guests arriving during the day to attend the banquet and program.

The three first named officials arrived early this morning and with Superintendent L. E. Smith conducted an inspection tour of the company's properties east of the city, which have operated continuously without interruption throughout the winter. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the plant whistle blew, closing all operations until 11 o'clock tonight to permit every employee to enjoy the banquet and program.

MURDERER TRIES TO END LIFE IN CHICAGO PRISON

Chicago, March 17.—(AP)—Roman Kalinowski, 26, held by police in connection with the slaying Feb. 22, of Julius Rohde, 65-year-old shooting gallery proprietor, attempted to end his own life today.

The prisoner, police said, slashed his left wrist with a jagged piece of tin shortly after Prosecutor John Boyle announced that on the basis of "lie detector" tests he would charge Kalinowski and his brother, Edwin, 28, with the killing of Rohde.

A jailer wrested the piece of tin from Kalinowski and he was given first aid treatment. A special guard was stationed at his cell to prevent any further attempts to harm himself.

Boyle, an Assistant State's Attorney said, Roman, when confronted with results of the "lie detector" test, confessed, told two different versions of the slaying, and then repudiated both.

"I shot him because I didn't like his looks," the assistant state's attorney said Roman told him after the truth test showed he had lied. In his second version, Boyle announced, Roman told investigators he shot the aged man during an argument over a box of cart-ridges.

The brothers were arrested after Charles Walker, 12, told police he saw them enter the shooting gallery the night of the slaying.

"Better Than Ordinary Service" to be Outlined in Weekly Reviews

Dixon Merchants' Assn. To Strive Increasingly

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Dixon Merchants' Association at the Coffee House, Tuesday evening, merchants dealing in dry goods, shoes, and kindred lines discussed new ideas and co-operative plans for creating a greater Dixon market.

Merchants co-operating in presenting Dixon trade area buyers a "better than ordinary service" will be identified for their meritorious support in "Merchants' Weekly Review," a new feature service to appear each Monday in the Evening Telegraph.

At Tuesday night's session, Chairman Joe Eichler called the meeting to order immediately after dinner and regular business proceeded.

Good Friday
The merchants agreed to co-operate with the Ministerial Association in planning for Good Friday, one hour on Good Friday in order that employees may attend church. The Ministerial Association's resolution was presented and approved at the meeting by unanimous vote.

Those present recalled many complimentary remarks on the presentation and ability of local talent models in displaying spring apparel at the style show here last week. One of the future activities will be a summer fashion show of seasonal apparel for ladies, men and children. This event will be in May, and will rival its winter predecessor in display of the latest fashions.

THREE ARRESTED FORMURDERCOMMITTED IN 1928

Harrisburg, Ill., March 17.—(AP)—Three men were held in the Saline county jail today charged with the murder of Bonnie Fox, 26-year-old miner, whose body was found in a cornfield four miles east of Harrisburg on Sept. 3, 1928.

State Attorney Lloyd C. Melton said an extended investigation resulted in the arrest of Ray Baker, 36, a farmer; George Pinchoff, 46, a miner, both of Harrisburg, and Dobry Jamboroff, 39, of Rosamond, near Taylorville.

Melton said Jamboroff, an ex-convict, signed a statement in which he claimed Pinchoff shot and killed Fox after Baker had agreed to pay $200 for the slaying. The motive was uncertain, the official said. Fox was the husband of a niece of Baker's.

As related by Melton, Jamboroff said Pinchoff told him he shot Fox through the back of the head after asking Fox to go into the cornfield to search for a jug of whiskey.

Pinchoff and Baker denied the charges. Melton said he would present the case to the next county grand jury.

Can't Explain Why She Fired Shots At English Teacher

Muskogee, Okla., March 17.—(AP)—County Attorney Camp Bonds said today a calm 16-year-old high school girl, held in jail here, told him she tried to "figure some way around" firing shots at her English teacher who gave her low marks—"but couldn't."

Slender Ramona Porter, who appeared younger than 16, was in the city-federal jail after wild shots were fired at Miss Charlotte Kennedy, the English teacher, in the corridor of the high school late yesterday.

"She apparently has no regret over her actions and seems rather defiant," Bonds said.

Miss Kennedy did not plan to press charges against the girl from whom she fled down the corridor.

Ricocheting shots struck a leg of James Litten, janitor, and grazed the arm of Betty Jones Peckenpaugh, 17, a student.

Bonds said the pistol was found at the home of the girl, daughter of an unemployed carpenter.

Dizzy Dean Asks to be Placed on the Retired List

Bradenton, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean said today he was through with baseball for 1937 at least, had placed his Bradenton home on the market and would head north tomorrow to consider one of several business connections.

The star holdout pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals reported he might locate in Chicago.

Refusing to sign for less than $50,000 and "convinced" he would not get that amount, Dean said he had written the Cardinals asking them to place him on the voluntary retired list because of "their failure to reach a satisfactory contract agreement."

He said Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis outlined the procedure to him in a telephone conversation.

Dean said the commissioner advised him to write to the club, that the matter would then be referred to President Ford Frick of the National League, after which it would come before Landis for final action.

Four-Year-Old Blind Mute Girl Makes Contact With the Present

Chicago, March 17.—(AP)—A four-year-old blind mute girl, whom a psychologist described as separated from normal people by millions of evolutionary years, today had made some "simple contacts with the 20th century."

Little Joan Higgins, who lived nearly all of her few years as just "a lump of humanity" in the Cook county hospital—deaf-blind—has since last summer been under the instruction of Dr. Robert H. Gault, Northwestern University psychologist.

Dr. Gault, who is also director of the American Institute for the deaf-blind has developed a "phonotactor," a highly sensitive vibrating instrument, with which he seeks to bridge the gap between normalcy and blind muteness.

With the aid of this instrument, Dr. Gault and his assistants have been training Joan. "Her progress," said Dr. Gault, "is steady but not startling."

Unable to make more than meaningless sounds a year ago, Joan now enunciates. Dr. Gault said, so as to be understood, the words: "rock," "rocking" and "swinging are her favorite pastimes—"good girl," "bad girl," "eat," "up" and "down."

The child continues to gain weight, Dr. Gault said, and much of her wallied-in hopelessness has given way to happiness as though realizing that some non-understandable force is trying to link her to a world unseen and unheard but somehow sensed.

Good Friday

Most Dixon Business Houses Will Close During Service

The movement to observe Good Friday in Dixon by closing the stores during at least part of the three hour service period, as suggested in an editorial in the Telegraph recently, has been given an added impetus by a petition signed by pastors of the churches of the city.

It is pointed out that other cities have been observing Good Friday for some years and that even in Rockford the stores close for the full three hours, from 12 noon to 3 P. M. Good Friday, the day.

Crucifixion of Jesus Christ, is certainly equally as important in the history of the Christian religion as Christmas, the day of the Savior's birth, or Easter, the anniversary of the Resurrection. The petition, which some of the pastors have asked for at least one hour, is as follows:

We the undersigned clergymen of the churches of Dixon do hereby respectfully petition the merchants of Dixon, through the Chamber of Commerce, to close their places of business for a period of at least one hour, between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock, on March 16 known throughout the Christian world as Good Friday. This will make possible the attendance at some church of all persons in any way connected with the business institutions of the community.

William E. Thompson, Church of the Brethren; James A. Barnett, First Christian church; Geo. A. Nielsen, Grace Evangelical church; Herbert J. Doran, First Presbyterian church; Howard P. Buxton, First Methodist church; L. E. Conner, Church of God; Paul D. Gordon, Bethel U. E. church; Lloyd W. Walter, St. Paul's Lutheran church; B. Norman Burke, St. Luke's Episcopal church; C. W. Caine, St. Anne's church; W. W. Marshall, First Baptist church; T. L. Walsh, St. Patrick's church.

Members of the Dixon Merchants' Assn. last evening heeded the request of the pastors by voting to observe Good Friday as a day of prayer and reflection.

Stop Extravagance Not Add Taxes To Balance Budget

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Representative Leo E. Allen, Galena, Ill., Republican, said today a decrease in "governmental extravagance" would be a better means of balancing the Federal budget than new taxes.

Allen's statement was made after he studied the recommendations of Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve board for new income and profits taxes as a means of budget balancing.

"I am unalterably opposed to the suggestion of Eccles that we increase taxes in order to balance the budget," Allen said.

"Excessive taxes at the present time are the chief reason that there are millions of unemployed."

ATMOSPHERE OF TENSION PREVAILING

Gov. Murphy Calls Conference Today to Plan Peace

Chicago, March 17.—(AP)—Open fighting broke out in the loop district today as sympathizers in the 12-day-old strike of taxicab drivers pummeled several chauffeurs, overturned at least three cabs and engaged in hand to hand encounters with police.

Gov. Murphy Calls Conference Today to Plan Peace

Detroit, March 17.—(AP)—Governor Frank Murphy, acting as thousands of sit-down strikers defied an injunction ordering them from Chrysler automobile plants, proposed today the establishment of mediation groups to deal with labor disputes.

Chrysler attorneys considered "further steps" against the strikers, but no immediate action was taken. The corporation could obtain court writs calling on the sheriff to evict and arrest the men.

In an atmosphere of tension while an estimated 20,000 union sympathizers demonstrated in the streets outside striker-held factories, the governor brought together in a downtown building 23 representatives of capital, labor, state government and the general public.

Absent from the conference were two leaders of the United Automobile Workers of America, who declined Murphy's invitation with an assertion that "sit-down strikes cease when the conditions which produced them no longer exist."

Two Proposals
The governor's mediation proposal, made in a statement read to the conference as it opened, took two forms:

1. "By cooperative action between organized employer and labor groups x x x to establish committees of tribunals to deal with grievances."

2. "Establishment in each county or community x x x of special mediation boards or committees."

As the conference recessed this afternoon, Murphy announced he had appointed two sub-committees, one to act on conciliation plans and the other to "study a minimum wage law and any other legislation which seems necessary."

Dean Heads Committee
The governor said the first committee, to be headed by Fr. Frederick Siedenbarg, executive dean of the University of Detroit, would begin a "study of conciliation and establishment of adequate agencies to make possible conciliation between labor and employer where such difficulties may arise."

The second committee, headed by John Reid, secretary of the Michigan Federation of Labor, was delegated to "study proposed legislation" and "study an act on labor relations which will be proposed."

Asserting that "industrial disputes should be settled through friendly and peaceful negotiations, conducted in a spirit of reason and justice," the governor whose peace efforts ended the widespread General Motors strikes in February, added:

"We have means to enforce respect for public authority and we propose to use them with proper vigor if need be."

More than 5,000 union members held the Chrysler plants here for the tenth day despite the injunction which ordered them to evacuate by 8 A. M. (CST) today under penalty of $10,000.00.

Murphy Optimistic
The governor, still optimistic of settlement of the Chrysler strike difficulties, would not discuss reports that a meeting of Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the corporation board, and John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization supporting the U. A. W. A. strikes, was regarded as providing the quickest means of a solution.

A Chrysler spokesman denied that any meeting between Lewis and Chrysler had occurred.

In all of the plants, the sit-down strikers watched the activities quietly. Some of them displayed improvised blackjacks.

Despite the injunction development, union and corporation conferees who have been deadlocked for two weeks on the issue of exclusive bargaining rights met again this morning.

Sanute Freed Lawyer Cries MISCARRIAGE

Somerset, Pa., March 17—(AP)—State Policeman Anthony Sanute went free today while Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti as- sailed his directed acquittal of murder as "Pennsylvania's great- est miscarriage of justice."

Margiotti declared Justice George W. Maxey's directed verdict for Sanute after a jury had failed to agree yesterday, was "unprece- dented, unlawful and the great- abuse of power ever exercised in the state by a trial judge."

Sanute was one of seven indicted on a charge of beating 64- year old Frank C. Monaghan to death in a third degree. A jury three weeks ago convicted his fel- low policeman, Stacy Gunerman, of second degree murder.

Sanute's jury reported yesterday to Justice Maxey at the end of 26 hours deliberation that it stood nine for a second degree murder verdict one for manslaughter and two for acquittal.

Defense Counsel John Dugan, Jr., immediately moved for a di- rected verdict. Margiotti object- ed, but Justice Maxey overruled him and added:

"There is no evidence to convict."

UNION WARFARE IN RIVAL MINES FLARING AGAIN

Springfield, Ill., March 17—(AP)—Police feared today that rival mine union warfare was flaring up again as the second blast with- in 24 hours damaged the resi- dence of Peter Manuele. Progres- sive coal miner, on the near north side of the city.

The explosion, which police said apparently was caused by a bomb placed in front of the dwelling about 1:30 A. M., wrecked the front porch and shattered all the windows. Windows also were broken in the house on each side of the Manuele residence.

Manuele, his wife and four children were asleep but escaped injury.

Meanwhile, the state fire mar- shal's office declared gasoline and not gas caused the explosion early yesterday which demolished two dwellings and partially damaged a half-dozen nearby houses. Three persons were injured slightly.

Police and investigators said the explosion occurred in the home of William Rath and estimated damage at $20,000. A large number of residents in the vicinity of the ex- plosion were thrown from their beds by the force of the blast.

Cunningham Scoffs At Reports He'll Retire From Track

New York, March 17—(AP)—Ru- mors of his retirement are just a laugh to Glenn Cunningham.

The husky Kansan, who will seek his fifth straight victory in the Columbian Mile at the Knights of Columbus games in Madison Square Garden tonight, says he will keep on chasing Father Time until "too many of those other ab- stract retirement ideas."

"Don't know where they got that retirement idea," said Cun- ningham today with a broad grin. "The Columbian won't be my last big mile, nor will this be my last season of racing. I'll be around for a little while longer, anyway."

Cunningham sees a 4:10 mile "or better" for tonight's race, al- though he believes that moving the time of the race back to 11 o'clock from 10 will slow down the run- ners.

Experiments at the Lubbock, Texas, experiment station show him keep a year or longer if cov- ered with refined cottonseed oil.

BLUM UPSET BY RIOTS MAY RESIGN POST

Socialist - Communist Rift Causes Bloodshed

Paris, March 17—(AP)—Social- ist Premier Leon Blum, beset by sudden protest strikes and po- litical attacks from his Popular Front supporters, was said by a member of the cabinet today to have threatened resignation of his government unless enraged French Communists give him a free hand to settle the aftermath of last night's bloody Clichy riots.

While furious leftists milled at the suburban scene of the leftist- rightist-police fighting which killed five persons and wounded 300, this minister—who asked that his name be not used—said the premier told the Communist lead- ers, Maurice Thorez and Jacques Duclos, that he would quite un- less he was assured of harmony in the ranks of the people's front in dealing with the consequences of the Clichy struggle.

The Communist leaders, it was understood, agreed provisionally to waive their own demands and extend M. Blum freedom in deal- ing with the situation.

Coincidentally, there were sev- eral brief strikes and talk of a 24- hou rgeneral walkout to protest the action of police in dealing with the Communist demonstrators who last night besieged a rightist mass meeting in Clichy, part of the in- dustrial "Red ring around Paris."

Despite the Communists' report- ed agreement to let M. Blum have a free hand, there was still the question of what he comparatively moderate Radical Socialists, also a powerful popular front bloc, would do. There still was danger that at least some of the radical Socialists, flailing the Commu- nists for the Clichy trouble, would desert the premier's majority.

M. Blum himself issued a state- ment repudiating a communiqué which was issued by Thorez and Duclos to describe their meeting with the premier. The Commu- nist communiqué said the two leaders had insisted that he po- lice be "cleaned out" and that rightist organizations such as the one which met last night, the French Social party—be disband- ed.

Communists, enraged by what they called the "massacre of Clichy," demanded immediate arrest of Col. Francois de la Rocque, leader of the militant right, and dissolution of his French Social party, a meeting of which led to the Communist demonstration and the riots last night.

Observers said fate of the Blum government hung in the balance after the government mobile guards fought their own Commu- nist supporters in the workers' suburb of Clichy to prevent hem from attack La Roque's followers, sworn enemies of the popular front government.

Blum issued a call for a full cabinet session for 5:30 P. M. (11:30 A. M. C. S. T.) for a pos- sible show-down on the question of Communist withdrawal from the government.

The rioting, worst the capital has seen since the "bloody Tues- day" of Feb. 6, 1934, flared at nightfall when thousands of left- ists attempted to prevent members of the French social party—form- erly the semi-militarized Croix de Feu—from holding a meeting in Clichy.

Legal Lesson

Springfield, Ill., March 17— (AP)—The legislature received a lesson in legal grammar to- day.

Governor Horner asked the house and senate please not to use the "and/or" conjunctive in the laws they write.

Citing Attorney General Otto Kern as an authority, the governor sent a special message to the assembly.

Used separately, either "and" or "or" is satisfactory, the mes- sage said, but they shouldn't be combined as "and or." That conjunctive is frequently uncer- tain as to its meaning.

Bills containing the "and/or" expression are of doubtful con- stitutionality, the attorney gen- eral said in a letter included in the governor's message.

Kerner for four years has pointed out that "and/or" is objectionable. The legislative Reference Bureau doesn't use it in the bills it drafts, but measures prepared by other at- torneys frequently contain the expression. Recently the gov- ernor found his own directors using it.

Home Bureau to Seek New Members

Mrs. Arthur Dodd, 413 Carroll avenue, Dixon, vice-chairman of Lee County Home Bureau announces a state membership contest. This contest is between the county Home Bureau organization of the state for net gain and resignation on a per cent basis, giving one county as good a chance as another. Only the counties having below 300 members are in competition and they are divided into two groups, the 9 below 200, and the 17 below 300 and above 200. Lee county falls in the latter group. The number of members reported last December 1 will be the basis of this competition which will end July 1, 1937.

Mrs. Dodd quotes from a letter she received from Mrs. Elsie W. Mies, state organization chairman, in speaking of the contest. "It will be good for the morale of your county, add to your membership for service and increase our state membership, the number of which we are already proud. After all, a state membership is made up of county members, a county membership of unit members, in which each individual counts as one."

Mrs. Dodd concludes, "See how many Lee County can add!"

Practical Club Followed Saint Patrick's Motif

Ladies of the Practical club and their husbands enjoyed a dinner party at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Whitson, 525 Highland avenue, on Tuesday evening. The hostess assisted by Mesdames G. P. Powell and John Byers served a three course dinner. Following the dinner games were the diversion of the evening, and much amusement was derived from a pig race, potato golf, etc. Harry Stephenson won in the pig race and Lila Hart proved to be the champion potato golfer. An unsolved pig puzzle which turned out to be a puzzle closed a pleasant evening.

Miss Barton Was Delightful Speaker at Phidians' Meet

On Tuesday afternoon the members of the Phidian Art Club had the extreme pleasure of listening to one of Dixon's most traveled citizens, Miss Esther Barton, at the home of Miss Anna G. Geisenheimer, 212 Ottawa avenue. Miss Barton spoke on "Mexico Today," and in a comprehensive manner covered the trend of the political, economic and educational set-up as part of the six year plan for that country.

One of the many interesting points made was regarding the cultural missions which consist of leaders in various arts and professions conducting school of a few weeks in duration in one community after another. The speaker paid special tribute to Mexico's rural school as factor in fashioning the ideals of the younger natives.

In conclusion Miss Barton said, "In no other country is the art of the people so closely allied with their life." The she touched upon the work of Diego Rivera, noted artist, archeologist, historian and economist, whose murals and frescos are historical narratives as well. Prior to the afternoon's talk Miss Geisenheimer made a few remarks about the Woman's Congress which she and Mrs. Harry Edwards had both attended the past week. Mrs. I. B. Hoefer, chairman of the annual art exhibit, reminded the members that the entries for the photography contest should be registered as soon as possible.

The afternoon was brought to a close with the serving of delicious refreshments. Miss Geisenheimer was assisted by Miss Grace Crawford and Mrs. H. M. Rasch. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. H. Coppins when Vincent Carney of Rochelle will present the program.

New Books

Late Volumes Placed on Shelves of Dixon Public Library

G. R. JeanETAOINSHFW

Cities of Refuge—Philip Gibbs—In Sebastopol in 1916, crowded to suffocation with refugees, a nightmare city with death encircling it and only the sea behind, the Markovs find themselves. With them is Betty Browns, the English girl who had been the family governess and had wandered along the Russian roads with them. With this girl, whose romance unfolds in these years, we watch the pageant of this phase of the revolution.

My Father Paul Gauguin—Pola Gauguin—The legend of Paul Gauguin, the stockbroker who turned painter over night, abandoned his family, fled to the South Seas and went native, is probably more widely known than the artistic achievement of the man. Like most legends it contains a kernel of truth, but requires qualifications; and here is a son of Gauguin, himself a painter, to round off the sharp edges and bring before us a credible human being. Many illustrations.

Motor Car Trailers—Collins—How to build, equip, and furnish them. Complete specifications and detailed drawings for making an expensive trailer and a luxurious trailer.

The Avon Flows—Nathan—By transposing an act from each of Shakespeare's plays "Romeo and Juliet," "Othello," and "The Taming of the Shrew" and by joining them to make one complete play, Mr. Nathan has speculated on what would have happened had Romeo and Juliet lived. The Shakespearean lines remain unchanged, except in some cutting, in the transportation of two scenes, and the re-identification of characters.

Federal Justice—Homer Cummings—The new quarters of the Department of Justice have made available for the first time manuscript material from which this volume is the first to benefit. The story includes the struggle between the courts and the president, the hitherto undisclosed methods of selecting judges, the tragic story of American prisons, the curious apathy and fear of federal police, etc.

Mexico and Its Heritage—Gruening—The most successful attempt toward explaining Mexico available in print; written with courage but not malice, with adherence to no doctrinaire bias. It is the classic work on Mexico of our time.

Ultimate Power—Ernst—Convinced that the ultimate power in democracy must remain with the people, the author discusses the powers of the Supreme Court, and the Constitution as the court interprets it. He does not advocate that the court be reduced or dissolved, but that the Constitution be amended in order to give congress the power to override, by a two-thirds vote of both houses, the decisions of the court.

Constitution and the Men Who Made It—W. H. Lyon—The style is clear and the conclusions restrained; the book exhibits a temper which is refreshingly calm and objective.

Camel Trek—Regan—Adventure novel.

Five Little Heiresses—Miller—Romance.

Mysteries—Murder—What—

Kurt; Man Overboard—Crofts; Corpse in the Cyprie—Walling. Westerns—Ranger Rides Alone—Moore, Left Handed Law—Martin, Two Gun Parson—Hayes, Fenced Water—Ogden, Blow Desert Winds—Corcoran, Bravo Trail—Cavender, Ride 'em Montana—Jones.

PREDICTIONS FOR DIXON

It is a dangerous thing to make predictions because those precocious smart-alecks who make a record of their prognostications often times find that record a plague and an annoyance when it proves to be untrue. But, here is one time when we feel bold enough to prophecy a little bit about the immediate future of Dixon. Dixon is right smack up against a period of unprecedented prosperity. We studiously avoid calling it a "boom" because that word indicates a temporary inflation that is usually followed by a recession of financial conditions that is of a severe disciplinary nature. In other words, when a "boom" comes along take what you can get out of it but don't get your neck out.

But this time all signs point to a real, wholesome and permanent addition to Dixon's industrial growth. The Telegraph thinks that this present year will see a very noticeable and welcome increase in good payrolls for Dixon working men and women and we think that this year will only be a starter for bigger and better years to follow.

The advent of the Freeman Shoe Company and the return of the J. I. Case Company (the old Grand Detour Plow Co.) in and to this city will inject a new and a much greater stream of prosperity into Dixon and surrounding communities than we have ever known. There will be such a demand for employment of skilled workers and such an attractive scale of wages that Dixon will be bound to grow and everyone who lives here and works for a living will be benefited and everyone who owns property here or has investments in Dixon will also enjoy those benefits.

There was a time when Dixon flourished and prospered as a shoe-making and plow-making center and prosperity was present here in abundance. In later years the closing of factories here caused unemployment and a serious curtailment in payrolls. The Reynolds Wire Company with its good-sized payroll; the Borden plant with its employment for Dixon workers and market for milk from the surrounding territory, and the Sandusky Medusa cement plant (the latter on a part time basis) were the backbone of employment here and the Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis in recent years opened their Dixon factory and helped to relieve the depression years, but Dixon never really got back into its stride until during the last few weeks.

From now on all indications point to a different and extremely better outlook for this community.

One complication arises, however. If Dixon is to grow, if more people are to come here to live, they must have homes to live in, but there are none. Dixon must solve its housing problem. It is practically impossible to find a vacant, habitable, modern home in this city today. Lack of housing facilities will seriously retard expansion, growth and prosperity. Radical increases in rents will result and that, too, will be no help to the general prosperity of the city.

Dixon should get ready to receive and welcome this new prosperity that knocks on our door.

CHANCE TO LEARN A TRADE

Word comes that the Chicago office of the United States Marine corps will accept for enlistment forty young men each month until July 1.

In this time of unemployment it is rather surprising that the marine corps should find it necessary to announce publicly that there are openings to be filled. One would imagine, rather, that there would be a long waiting list.

In many ways, military service is an educational process. Young men from 18 to 30 years old, if they are accepted for enlistment, are given free courses of instruction in any one of fifty-one trades. In addition, they acquire physical and mental discipline, have the opportunity to develop sound habits, and they have a chance to travel. The benefits are proportionate to what one puts into it. One may leave the service at the end of the period of enlistment and apply trade, or remain and take chances of becoming a commissioned officer. In the marines, as in life in general, a man may become a gentleman or a tramp, depending upon his inclination.

QUIRK OR FATE

Strangest of all fates was the one which caught up with Samuel Whitaker, convicted Los Angeles murderer, recently.

Whitaker was convicted of having hired a thug to kill his wife. When he was called up for sentence he was asked, according to custom if he had anything to say in his defense. Raising his arm, he cried dramatically:

"If I am guilty, I hope God will strike me dead before I reach my cell."

Unimpressed, the judge ordered him to San Quentin prison for life. Whitaker was taken away. He fell ill en route to the prison and was lodged in the prison hospital. He seemed to improve, and a cell was prepared for him. But before he could enter it, he fell dead.

Sheer coincidence—or grim working-out of a mysterious and inscrutable fate?

RED HERRING?

Within the last several weeks, Adolf Hitler has come at least two croppers. He threw in the sponge after a long battle with high church officials; and he was presented an ultimatum by Germany's financial brass hats, who declared that unless more of the nation's resources were devoted to trade and less to armaments, wholesale disaster was imminent.

It was shortly afterward that, seizing upon an unfortunate statement from America, Hitler's personal news organ brewed a great pot of trouble.

To divert the minds of their people from domestic troubles, dictators frequently resort to the device of hurling loud accusations at other countries. So it is wondered if Nazi indignance over the American incident was really sincere, or merely a ruse to keep Germans from suspecting, perhaps, that their leader is slipping.

MENU MYSTERY

Persons who are compelled to point out for the waitress the menu items they want, and say "Give me a little of this, and some of that . . ." will approve the latest move of the German government.

Restaurant proprietors of Germany are requested to bar from menus such words as "hors d'oeuvre" and "consomme," and, in general, to "purify the language of superfluous foreign words."

To many unlettered persons, however, the movement may not seem so desirable. In most of us there lurks a spirit of adventure. And one of the ways in which the spirit is best titillated is to enter a snooty restaurant, laboriously pronounce a few of the foreign dishes, and then wait eagerly to see what shows up.

The German people have such a drab, standardized existence nowadays; it seems a pity they should be deprived of this last bit of colorful uncertainty.

for the conscription of industry in war time, "Little Morrie" set a new precedent.

Miss Louise Branson of the League Against War and Fascism was on the stand. After her testimony, Sheppard, author of the bill, said:

"I don't know very much about this, and therefore call upon John Thomas Taylor to cross-examine the witness."

Taylor, potent veterans' lobbyist, bustled up to the head of the able, cross-examined Miss Branson. When he had finished, she asked for the right to cross-examine him, but this "Little Morrie" refused.

Note—Pacifist organizations are now clogging Sheppard with demands that they be allowed to examine his witness in the future.

Merry-Go-Round

Newton D. Baker, ex-war secretary, is heading a series of broadcasts on Americanism and neighborly tolerance. A lot of big business moguls, educators, lawyers will participate . . . Alf Landon recently was made honor member of Zeta Chi, his pin being tacked on the gubernatorial vest by Richard Brown of Topeka . . . Argentina purchased more military airplanes and military equipment from the United States last February than any other country, totaling $703,800. This, despite the Roosevelt-inspired Buenos Aires peace conference. Mr. Hull, however, is pointing to reciprocity, since Argentina, in turn, is selling us more corn than ever before. During the first week of March 4,774,000 bushels arrived. U. S. farmers don't feel quite the same way about it.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS—DUMPMAN ANSWERS LOUDLY

Marysville, Kan.—(AP)—Opportunity knocked in a dump heap for George E. Williams, who took over care of the city dump here for $21 a month after several other men turned down the job.

Williams salvaged enough wood to build his family a four-room home and poultry house. The latter is stocked with 75 chickens that hatched from "rotten" eggs discarded by a local hatchery. The chickens are fed from stale bread Williams finds.

The dump heap also provides him with fuel and a steady income from the sale of bottles, cans and metals. Impressed by his initiative city officials raised his wages to $30 a month.

APPOINTMENT OF JUDGE CREATES COURT VACANCY

Rumor Adair Next In Line For District Court Post

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Senate leaders expected a vote today on confirmation of President Roosevelt's nomination of Judge J. Earl Major of Hillsboro, Ill., for the Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago.

Confirmation of Judge Major's nomination would create a vacancy in the Federal District court over which he presides. The name of former Representative Leroy Adair of Quincy has been mentioned frequently as a possible choice for that bench.

It was learned from a usually reliable source that Senators William H. Dieterich and J. Hamilton Lewis have agreed to recommend Adair for appointment to Major's present judgeship if the Senate confirms Major as a circuit judge. The judiciary committee reported favorably Monday on Major's nomination.

Two Vacancies

The death of Judge Louis B. Fitz-Henry and the retirement of Judge Samuel A. Schuler left two vacancies on the Court of Appeals. Before Major was named, Governor Henry Horner of Illinois supported State Attorney General Otto Kernner and Maurice V. Joyce of East St. Louis as possible appointees. Others include Senators Sherman Minton of Indiana and F. Ryan Duffy of Wisconsin. Federal Judge William Holly of Chicago and State Judge Philip Sullivan.

Judge Major was born at Donnellson, Ill., and studied at the Illinois college of law. Until his election as state's attorney of Montgomery county, which office he held from 1912 to 1920, he practiced in Hillsboro.

He served in Congress from 1923 to 1925 and from 1927 to 1933, when he resigned to accept appointment by President Roosevelt to the Federal bench.

A girl cashier, 18, and a candy man, 45, working side by side in circus concessions, became pals. At Cleveland the girl introduced the man to her mother, who recognized him as her former husband. The girl was his daughter.

STORK OUTRACES DOCTOR

Augusta, Ga.—(AP)—The "stork" out-distanced the doctor in a race to the home of Mrs. Ella Jackson. The baby was born as a perspiring physician neared the top of a flight of stairs to Mrs. Jackson's third-story apartment.

Legislature

Summary of Activities Today in Ill. General Assembly

Springfield, Ill., March 17.—(AP)—Frowned on by Governor Horner, the Chicago Park District's request for a $9,000,000 annual pegged tax levy faced a slash as the legislature continued today to give most of its attention to secondary matters.

The governor insisted that $7,000,000 a year is enough for the operation of the Chicago parks, consolidated in 1934 for economy. Senator Harold G. Ward and Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski, spokesman for Mayor Kelly and the park district, had small prospect for avoiding a reduction when they attempt house passage of Ward's bill, probably next week.

It was the first big disagreement of the session between the administration and the Chicago city hall.

Meanwhile the two houses worked on calendars listing few bills of major importance. Some of the big issues haven't been submitted and most of the others still are in committee. The usual week-end adjournment was scheduled for this afternoon. First the senate was scheduled to hold further hearings on the insurance reorganization and women's eight-hour bills.

Removal of all authority to force the consolidation of the multitude of small, overlapping school districts from the state school board bill was on the program for Senator Harry C. Stitt of Litchfield, who was ready to amend his bill at the demand of educational officials.

Labor spokesmen said the unemployment insurance bill, major item in the social security program, might be ready for introduction soon but declined to comment on its administrative features.

Stitt and Senator George C. Dixon, Dixon Republican, introduced bills to make it unnecessary to hold special elections in northern Illinois to fill three vacant circuit judgeships.

They would authorize city judges to be elected in May and June at Beardstown, Benton, De Kalb, Elgin, Johnston City and Moline to serve on the Circuit benches, drawing extra pay on the same basis that downstate judges have for years been sitting in crowded Cook county courts.

A bill introduced in the senate by James O. Monroe, Collinsville, and Louis L. Menges, East St. Louis, would provide for the organization of the St. Louis interstate regional district.

Another by Senator Richard J.

SOLONS PONDER $14,545,000 FOR SAFETY IN AIR

Ask Appropriation of $10,000,000 This Session

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—The Senate commerce committee recommended today the expenditure of $14,545,000 for "promotion of air safety."

Reporting on the seventeenth major study of aviation in this country since 1920, the committee asked Congress to appropriate $10,000,000 at this session for "construction and maintenance of all the necessary aids to air navigation."

The other funds sought would be divided as follows: Weather bureau, to improve forecasting—$2,364,000. Study of pilot fatigue—$50,000. Development of high-powered motors—$1,500,000.

General aeronautics research—$631,000. The investigation, under way almost a year, resulted from the death of Senator Cutting, of New Mexico, and four others in an air crash in Missouri in May, 1935.

Called "Stepchild" in the department of commerce, the committee suggested that the office of assistant secretary of commerce for air be revived. The growing importance of air traffic warrants this action, the report said, so modern needs can be met in that field much as the bureau of public roads fostered the spread of highways and the bureau of lighthouses helped development of inland waterways.

Chairman Copeland (D-N.Y.) said little legislation was needed, that most of the recommendations could be effected by order of President Roosevelt. The department of commerce might not be able to use more than $5,000,000 directly now for radio beacons and other navigation aids, he said, but as much more could profitably be spent for installations on other lines by contract.

He said the report had been "very much tempered" as a result of the recent re-shuffling of aviation personnel in the commerce department.

Barr, Joliet, would prohibit the licensing of road houses by county boards.

The senate passed a bill by Arnold P. Benson, Batavia Republican, validating a community high school tax levy at Newark, Ill., in Kendall county.

Miles Apart

President and First Lady Not Together on Anniversary

Warm Springs, Ga., March 17.—(AP)—The 32nd anniversary of their wedding found President and Mrs. Roosevelt 1,000 miles apart today, but a telegraphic exchange of greetings recalled to them that memorable St. Patrick's Day in New York City when Uncle "Teddy" gave Anna Eleanor Roosevelt away to her sixth cousin.

Instead of a family dinner at the White House in Washington, the customary celebration since he became chief executive, the president arranged another day of relaxation at his vacation cottage here.

Mrs. Roosevelt was in Oklahoma on a lecture tour. She may join the president here after speaking at Birmingham March 23.

James Roosevelt, secretary-son, is due at the Pine Mountain retreat Saturday after speaking at a victory dinner in Athens, Ga., Friday night. His wife, the former Betsy Cushing of New Haven, Conn., is acting as presidential hostess at the cottage.

The president will deliver a brief address of greeting at 9:30 Central time, tonight to the Charitable Irish Society of Boston on the occasion of its 200th anniversary. The talk will be made by telephone from Georgia Hall, the administration building for the Warm Springs Foundation. It will be broadcast from Boston and arrangements were being made today to have it relayed to a dinner given by the Hibernian Society of Savannah, Ga.

PLAYED SECOND FIDDLE New York, March 17.—(AP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the bridegroom, played second fiddle to President Theodore Roosevelt, who gave the bride away, in newspaper accounts of his wedding thirty-two years ago.

Age-yellowed New York papers of that day and the day after show that "President Teddy" received the headlines, with comparative scant mention of the tall young bridegroom.

One 58-line account of the wedding in "society news" which appeared on an editorial page, gave only one line to Frank Delano Roosevelt.

The account began, "President (Theodore) Roosevelt, since his elevation to the chief magistracy, has attended so few purely social functions in New York that his presence yesterday at his niece's wedding served to add to its brilliancy."

The New York Daily Tribune of March 17 mentioned the wedding under a head line, "The President's Visit."

Newspaper stories of the wedding were devoted mainly to listing the guests, but mentioned that the bride wore "white satin and lace and a point lace veil," and that her flowers "consisted of lilies of the valley."

Most morning papers had the account of the wedding on an inside page, and gave part of the front page to a picture of Mayor McClellan's carriage in the St. Patrick's Day parade.

KEEPS ZOO FOR FUN Manchester, Ia.—(AP)—Lindsey Barr keeps a small menagerie on his farm "just for fun." So far he has collected two Canadian bears, eight head of buffalo, eleven long-horn brahma steers and three species of love birds.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Editor: Would you please permit me in my humble way to say a few words relative to an article that appeared in the Evening Telegraph on Friday, March 12th, under the head lines of "Ridiculous Resolutions Before Board."

The road and bridge committee is after an improvement in conditions that they feel are not as good as they should be. They are not doing nor do they anticipate doing anything that will not be for the best interests of the taxpayer, and I assure you that their efforts were honest and sincere, and their requests were by no means of a ridiculous nature. Would you, dear reader, if you were a member of the county board, say "yes" to everything, or would you stand up for what you thought to be right?

It is my humble opinion if a man stands up for what he considers right and has good reasons to know that a certain set of new regulations would improve conditions in our county highway system, he should lend his best efforts to bring this about, and your newspaper should not try to make them look ridiculous. At any rate the people are wise and know what is right and what is wrong. There was a lot of hokey about the word "personal" in the expense account. That was merely a smoke screen and was used as such to evade the real issue.

The real issue was as follows:

Should the county superintendent of highways itemize his expense account?

Should the county-owner machinery be exposed to the weather for long periods of time when there would be room for it in the county garage if private owned machinery and equipment were removed from said garage?

Should there be an accurate record of supplies, such as gas, oil, grease, culvert pipe, grader, blades, tools of all kinds and many other items; should there be a record showing where used and when and the amount on hand?

Should the county superintendent of highways while not in his office leave word with his office girl where he could be found? The road and bridge committee believes that this was not a ridiculous request, and probably would help a little. But by no means do they think that this is necessary to make the system highly satisfactory.

The veteran supervisor from Nelson township made the remark that there was something wrong with the road and bridge committee. It is only natural that he should think that way as you will remember he was the unsuccessful candidate for chairman of the board last spring and, therefore, it became another man's duty to select the road and bridge and other committees.

"HOW MUCH WILL A PACKARD COST ME?"

Yes, I hear that the new Packard Six costs very little to operate. But what I want to find out is—how easily can I buy one?

"ONLY '31 A MONTH, MR. JONES!"

The car you're driving now will probably more than cover the down payment. So you get your new Packard Six for only $31 a month!

SEND IN THE COUPON and you'll find that the Packard Six costs less to buy than you ever dared hope.

And here's more good news... the Packard Six can challenge any car for low-cost operation. This is true for two reasons...

First, because this powerful Six is unusually thrifty with gasoline. (Ask us to show you the actual gas mileage that local owners are getting!)

Second, because the car is designed so simply that it costs very little to service. For example, most service operations can be performed on the Packard Six in less time, with less labor hours, than on cars lower in price!

And the Packard Six will not only need very little service but will last longer. This long, mechanical life, coupled with the famous lines that keep Packards looking like Packards, make it the ideal car for the man who buys out of income.

So fill out and mail the coupon, and get the pleasantest surprise in motoring!

HERE'S AN EASY WAY TO GET THE FIGURES FOR YOUR OWN CASE!

SCENE AT MINE WHERE 18 DIED IN EXPLOSION OF GAS POCKET

THE IDEAL ATHLETE—Francis Thomas Murray, University of Pennsylvania football and basketball star, holding trophy awarded him by the class of 1915 after his selection as the University's ideal athlete.

SIT-DOWN TO MUSIC.—A carefree note is struck in New York City's first five and ten cent store sit-down strike as clerks gather around the piano in the music department of the F. & W. Grand Store after union organizers ordered work stopped.

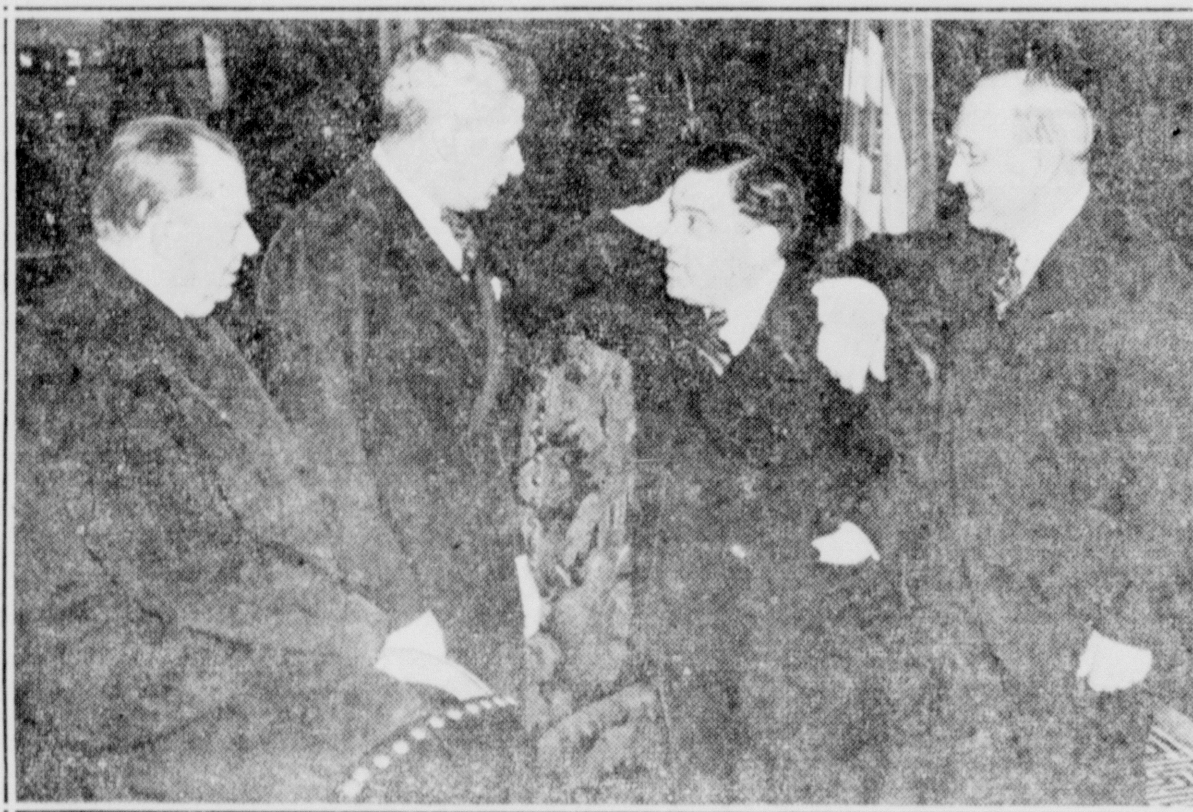

AWAITING THEIR DEAD—Wives, families and friends of the 18 miners crushed to death under tons of debris wait at the entrance to the MacBeth Mine at Logan, W. Va., as crews dig feverishly to reach their bodies. Miners perished when explosion of gas pocket caused cave-in of hundreds of tons of rock.

WITH FLYING COLORS.—Amelia Earhart, America's leading aviatrix, smiles with delight as she leaves the office of the Department of Commerce at Oakland, Cal., airport after being informed that she passed blind flying tests. Test took place as her plane was poised for world flight.

MAKING LARGEST BATTLE WAGON SHIP-SHAPE—Sailors swarm over the sides of H. M. S. Hood, the world's largest warship, to apply new layers of paint on her towering hull at the finish of recent maneuvers in the Mediterranean.

MAYORS TALK RELIEF—Mayors S. Davis Wilson, Philadelphia; Meyer C. Edenstein, Newark; F. H. LaGuardia, New York, and Howard W. Jackson, Baltimore, (L-R) in a huddle on Federal relief at Eastern Regional Conference of Mayors held in Philadelphia. They asked $2,200,000,000 for WPA.

A CUE FOR AVERAGES—Nothing like a game of pocket pool to keep the batting eye sharp, seems to be the idea behind this picture as Hartnett, Hack, Stainbach and Barrett (L-R), of the Chicago Cubs work out in recreation room at Catalina Island.

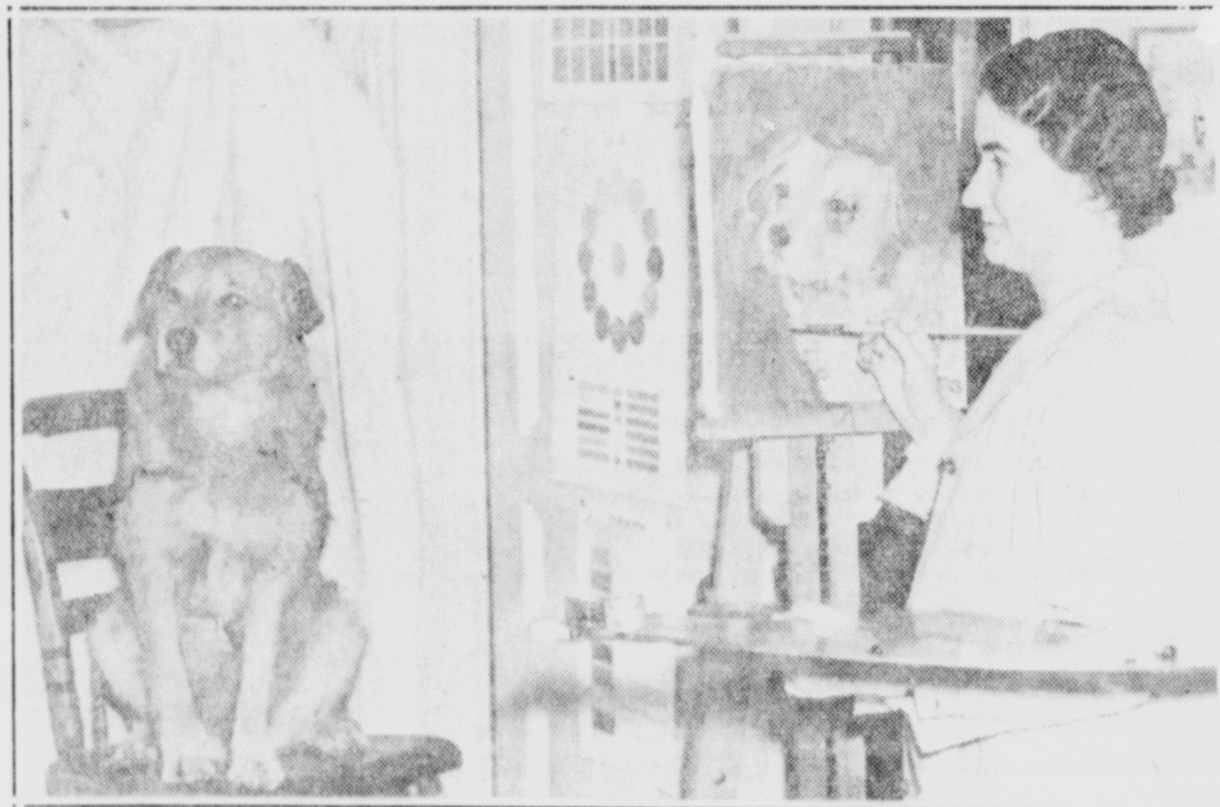

POSTAL OFFICIAL'S DAUGHTER AND HER FIANCE—Mary Senate Howes, daughter of Assistant Postmaster General William H. Howes, shown with her fiance, John A. Stewart, of Washington, D. C., after their engagement was announced.

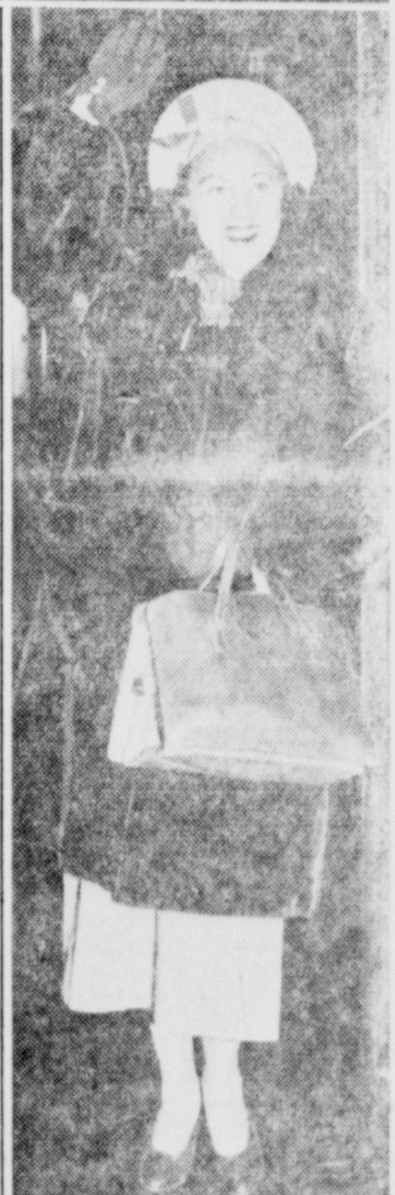

BUT IT DIDN'T WORK.—Tony Manero (right), national open champion, and Lawson Little, his partner, show each other how they start off long drives as they prepare to tee off in Miami four-ball golf finals. They lost to Johnny Revolta and Henry Picard.

"SO THIS IS FAME!"—Paddy, the mascot for the Humane Society in New York, pays the price of fame by doggedly keeping his pose for four hours so that Miss Helen Stotesbury can perpetuate his features in oils. Paddy's bark each year opens "Be Kind to Animals" week.

ROARING TRYOUT FOR REGATTA—Speedboats of various classes are pictured as they churn up the placid water of Biscayne Bay, Miami, Fla., during one of the trial runs for the 24th annual Biscayne Bay powerboat regatta.

SEEMS TO BE A "HITCH" HERE—When Knoxville, Tenn., installed parking meters, it was taken for granted that the meters were meant for motorists. As the ordinance didn't specify, Welton Huffman decided that his mule had same rights.

BACK FROM HOLLYWOOD—Grace Moore, opera and motion picture star, waves a happy greeting to New York City as she alights from train after trip from Hollywood.

BREAK GROUND APRIL 1st FOR "DEMONSTRATOR"

First of Lumber Industry's Small Homes To Be Erected

The first of the lumber industry's 1937 small homes demonstration to be built in Dixon, is to be located at North Dixon avenue and Graham streets.

The builders who are making possible this city's co-operation in the small homes program are Dement and Harry Schuler of the Home Lumber and Coal Co. who will break ground April 1 for the construction of the house which is to be a one story home with basement, on a lot 50x150 ft. in one of the rapidly growing residential sections of the city. Similar demonstrations are going forward in over 1,000 other cities of the United States.

It is the purpose of the demonstration, according to Mr. Schuler to show men and women throughout the United States that following Federal Housing Administration basic plans and estimates, small homes now can be built for $2500 to $3500.

The lumber industry, following plans for houses "B", "D" and "E" in F. H. A. Technical Bulletin No. 4, completed the first three of the demonstration homes last fall near Washington, D. C. The houses when finished proved to be pleasing in exterior appearance, well planned, convenient and modernly equipped. There were several hundred requests from people who wanted to buy these homes, indicating a tremendous demand for small houses that are modern and can be financed on easy terms.

Backing small home building in the United States, Federal Housing Administration has developed the long time "insured mortgage system" which has been adopted by many banks and financial institutions of the country.

By this system 80 per cent of the value of the property can be borrowed to finance the proposition. A 20 per cent down payment is required and the balance is payable over a twenty-year period in small monthly payments which include principal, interest, insurance and taxes.

With 71 per cent of the population earning $2500 or less each year it is estimated that this national small homes program which makes it possible to build and own a home for as low small monthly payments as $25.00 will render a great service to home loving people of the country.

Omak, Wash.—(AP)—When Crumbacher lake began to dry up, Phil L. Pfarr was down-hearted. Then, as the waters gradually revealed an unusual lime formation, he grew curious. Now he's delighted. The deposit proved to be marl, valuable as a fertilizer for over-acid soils, and Pfarr has leased the tract to a corporation at a good royalty.

Chuckles

Coney Island has been well named "the playground of the world." Not only is it the world's most playful place, but on any warm summer's day, especially on Sundays and holidays, it is the most colorful spot in all the world.

And more—it is the most diversely smelly place in all the world, for here, throughout the length of the island we have the smells of frankfurters, popcorn, hamburgers, clam chowder, beer and other eatables and drinkable pungently odorous, too numerous to mention in this limited space. It is here that parents take their little boys and girls on crowded subways for "rest and recreation." If they promise to be good for the balance of the week, it was here that one fond parent took his boy in celebration of his birthday and, like a good daddy, the boy but needed to express a wish for this or that and daddy set it for him. The afternoon was nearing its close when the boy became fidgety and soon began to cry. This annoyed the father, particularly in view of his not having denied the child anything he asked for. "I bought you hot dogs and a hamburger," scolded the father, "I bought you ice cream and popcorn and taffy and soda water. I let you ride on the shoot-the-shoots and the bump-the-bumps and the roller coaster—for goodness sake, what do you want more?" The kid's crying had by this time developed to a wail. "I want a womit," he bawled.

President of Irish Free State Writes for AP Readers

By EAMON DE VALERA

President of the Irish Free State Written for The Associated Press Dublin, March 17.—On St. Patrick's Day five years ago the present government of Saorstát Eireann (the Irish Free State) was just one week in office, pledged to a program of social and economic development and advance towards the goal of Irish unity and independence.

A few weeks later an opposition newspaper reported millions of pounds worth of property in Dublin had been insured against riot and civil commotion by people who feared the effects of the change of government.

This fear was a direct result of the scare produced by alarmist

Shamrocks Scarce

Dublin, March 17.—(AP)—There was a near-famine of shamrocks for Dublin's celebration of St. Patrick's Day today. Hundreds of acres of the little green plants were buried under a heavy blizzard.

The shortage, however, failed to dampen holiday spirits. A military parade, sports, dancing, singing and festive dinners were on the program.

statements of opposition speakers. It proved groundless as did so many other statements then and since of a similar character.

Instead of riot and civil commotion the change of government brought peace and stability and cleared the way for advances in every direction, national, social, economic and cultural.

In the five years since St. Patrick's Day, 1932, most of the immediate objectives of the government have been realized. Recognizing that nothing short of complete independence for the whole of Ireland would satisfy the aspirations of the Irish people, the government proceeded on that basis and removed the oath of allegiance, appeal to the British Privy Council and other provisions inconsistent with the sovereignty of the Irish people which were incorporated in the constitution of 1922.

The new constitution to be enacted by the people this year will consolidate the constitutional advance made and afford, I hope, a basis for the unity of Ireland and for better understanding with Britain.

As a recognized independent nation, Ireland could enter into special arrangements with Great Britain which would take into account the geographical, financial, economic and other conditions which govern relations of the two nations. Without Irish independence such arrangements would be impossible.

RELIGION TAKES TO ROAD

IN TRAILER CHAPELS

Seattle, Wash.—(AP)—Bishop Gerald Shaghenesky of this Roman Catholic diocese will take the church to communicants in remote Puget Sound districts by means of a motorboat and chapels installed in auto trailers. The diocese is larger than Ohio.

Except for a so-called "Showboat Chapel" on the Mississippi, the traveling chapels are said to be unique in the United States.

ALMOST FORMAL DRESS WORN IN SUPREME COURT

Lawyers Ushered Out In Past For Ignoring Their Dress

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Dress cuts a pretty neat figure in the Supreme court of the United States.

Springing back to early years of the nation, the sartorial edicts begin with the first Chief Justice—John Jay—who sported a mottled wig and a bright red robe.

Lawyers should wear dark clothes, preferably gray-striped morning trousers, black cut-away coats and the collar ought to be a gates-ajar model and not some flippant soft thing.

Time was when a lawyer who forgot his judicial get-up, or never heard of it, could fall back on the court to supply him. But those days disappeared when someone threw away the spare coat and collars that hung for such occasions in an ante room.

Presenting himself at the court's outer door in gay raiment that happened to be the fickle fancy of the moment, the attorney was sidetracked quickly to the emergency rigging.

GETTING THE PITCH

Vests are important too. Chief Justice Taft once chased a prominent Arkansas attorney out of court because he didn't have one.

There's only one unsettled thing about court dress—nobody has ever decided just what women lawyers should or should not wear.

DISGUSTED FARMER PLANTS WHEAT, NOT CORN

Pleasant Hill, Mo.—(AP)—For the first time in 34 years one Missouri farmer isn't going to lie awake nights worrying whether next year will be a good one for growing corn.

For W. R. Warner, who has planted corn every year since he began farming in 1902, is turning his 320 acres over to wheat, timothy and lespedeza. His corn crops for the last three years were burned away by drought.

LARGE STRAW HATS WIN FASHION'S FAVOR

Paris.—(AP)—Very new and very big straw hats are being shown in Paris. One wide brimmed red model has a low, round crown topped with two thin black quills. A violet chapeau has a slab-sided crown whose edges are outlined with small multi-colored flowers. Its broad brim is square.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain! to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid into your bowels daily. If this bile isn't flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A man's bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. LONBORG MAY BE ATHLETIC HEAD; KANSAS

Regents Expected To Confirm Appointment Soon

Chicago March 17.—(AP)—While Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, Northwestern basketball coach since 1927, insisted that "any statement must come from Kansas," the impression prevailed today that he will be Kansas University's athletic head.

The Kansas University board of regents was expected to meet within 10 days and confirm the appointment which will bring Lonborg back to his alma mater where he starred in basketball, football and baseball, prior to graduation in 1921.

Ralph O'Neill, Topeka attorney and chairman of the board of regents, was unavailable for comment last night, but drew McLaughlin, member of a committee which conferred with Lonborg said at Paola, Kan., no action had been taken.

Northwestern, it was understood, offered Lonborg a long term contract as baseball coach in an effort to retain his services.

Came From Washburn

Lonborg came to Northwestern from Washburn college to Topeka, where he had served as basketball coach for four years. His teams there won two conference titles and one national A. A. U. championship, losing only nine of 56 games.

He succeeded Maury Kent as basketball coach at Northwestern and in his first season brought a tail end team of the previous year into third place in the Big Ten. During his 10 years as Wildcat cage mentor his teams won two conference titles. In 1931 they were undisputed titleholders with 11 wins and one defeat. In 1933 they tied with Ohio State at 10 victories and two losses.

His complete record at Northwestern is 119 games won and 61 lost. In conference competition his teams have won 75 and lost 45.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Same old Cardinals. . . Same old Pepper Martin. . . Just can't stop that fellow. . . He and his hill-billy friends are making the Cardinal training camp here just about the liveliest in Florida. . . Some of the natives may long for a few close-ups of the Mr. Dean, but Pepper and his pals won't let them miss even old Dizzy for long.

First time he reported to a St. Louis camp, Pepper rode the rails. . . This year he showed up from Oklahoma in a hand made truck. . . If he isn't loading it with pickinies and roaring up and down the main stem with the throttle open, he's taking on a cargo of baseball troubadours and going about serenading the citizenry.

The Florida sun hasn't mellowed Col. Jake Ruppert one dollar's worth. . . It's still $36,000 or nothing for Lou Gehrig. . . When Pete Norton of the Tampa Tribune shoots he aims high. . . He invited President Roosevelt to fish for tarpon off the Florida west coast. . . Moreover, Roosevelt promised to keep the invitation in mind.

Miami papers report some of the Giants (no names mentioned) got the blast on Havana as a training spot. . . Said the weather was OK, but the players couldn't cut down their weight. . .

Note to Francis Albertanti, press agent of the American Bowling congress: The Cardinals' hotel here served "A B C soup" yesterday. . . It isn't official yet, but some of the other managers are going to tear a leaf from Mickey Cochran's book and put the ban on wives in training camps next year. . .

Cardinal Pilots Adamant Against Dizzy's Demands

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—The Cardinal "stonewall" held firm today against the demands of Dizzy Dean for a $50,000 salary.

"I have not changed a particle in my offer," President Sam Breadon declared. His basic offer to Dean is $22,500.

If Dean applies to Commissioner of Baseball Kenesaw M. Landis for voluntary retirement, the Cardinals will approve it. Vice President Branch Rickey said. Rickey arrived in training camp Monday.

DAFFY DODGERS STILL BAFFLE BALL EXPERTS

Hire Hurdler To Show Them How To Skip Baseball Humps

Clearwater, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Wonders never cease in the camp of the Flatbush Follies.

It wasn't enough that Brooklyn's Demon Dodgers should fire their old clubhouse trainer and hire a fancy physiotherapist. Now—every other method of teaching base-running a comic failure—they've recruited a star hurdler to show them how to skip over the baseball humps.

Percy Beard, who used to set world's record for Alabama Poly and now makes a living as track coach at the University of Florida, has been hired by Manager Burleigh Grimes to show his boys how to get away from slow motion.

Beard is a very patient young man and Grimes hopes he may perform a miracle among Brooklyn's tangled baserunners.

Winsett New Pupil

Foremost among Professor Beard's pupils will be one John T. Winsett, a ponderous outfielder from McKenna, Tenn. Ordinarily, the impatient Grimes would have no truck with a fellow like "Long Tom" Winsett because he has what the ball players call "two left feet." Tom just can't make a right turn, it seems, when he's running bases or chasing fly balls. He veers off in the same direction every time.

But "Long Tom" can belt that apple, and Grimes needs him in the lineup for his punch. Before "Long Tom" joined the Flatbush crew from Columbus for an autumnal tryout last year, he had hit American Association pitching with such venom that he won the A. A. batting and home run championship. He quit the Columbus Red Birds in September with 50 home runs to his credit.

One June day, last summer, "Long Tom" tied three league records by hitting three home runs, driving in nine runs and scoring six himself. He bunched 21 homers in one month. June, beating Babe Ruth's best mark by four for that month.

BLIND BOWLING TEAMS AVERAGE LOFTY TOTALS

New York, March 17.—(AP)—In the vast and gleaming interior of a New York armory early today ten blind men introduced a touch of drama into the brawling tumult of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

They represented the Lighthouse, a private New York institution, where they learned to bowl by feeling the pins on miniature alleys.

First in the shuffling file was Otto Foelsch, a 60-year-old former soldier who drilled for five years in this same armory as a member of the 212th Coast Artillery. Discharged in 1905 when a kick by a horse took his sight, Foelsch had never returned to the armory until now.

Following him came Tom McDonnell, fountain pen salesman; Tony Ballista, broom and mop manufacturer; Sigmund Balinowski, 20-year-old WPA worker; Carl Rice, tall, intelligent instructor in Braille; 59-year-old Bill Meyer, a lower Manhattan news vendor; Peter Finnegan, who makes talking books for the blind; and Julian Diez, Louie Marisca, and Isadore Schlein, all piano tuners.

Using bowling terminology of their own, they answered quickly to calls of their two coaches, Jerry Wood and Carl Stutman, who told them after each roll which pins remained standing.

Rice, who averaged 205 in league competition last week, scored 196 in his final game, after rolling 160 and 116. The Lighthouse "blue" team totalled 1,743 on games of 510-576-666, and the "red" team marked up games of 395-488-428.

MORE THAN HALF OF THE MAJOR LEAGUE BALL PLAYERS ARE HALF-IRISH.

These three sturdy sons of the Ould Sod are celebrating St. Patrick's Day today along with the rest of the O'Hallorans and Kellys. They are outstanding among the Irish-American athletes. Joseph Edward Cronin, left, a fine brood of a boy, indeed, manages the Boston Red Sox. Joseph Joseph Braddock, center, rules the prizefight world as heavyweight champion. Ralph Flanagan, right, is the U. S. mile and half-mile swimming champion. Cronin and Flanagan give you a touch of "when Irish eyes are smiling," while Braddock gives you the fighting face of his race as he glowers into the camera.

News Briefs From Training Camps of American and National Leaguers

By The Associated Press

Orlando, Fla.—Now that they know about it, the New York Giants are well pleased with the 1938 National League ball. The new sphere, with a thicker cover and slightly raised stitches, was tried out without their knowledge in yesterday's tilt with the Bees. Result: One homer by Mel Ott and 11 other assorted blows for the Giants; Two boundry belts for Boston.

Clearwater, Fla.—It may not be an original remark, but Percy Beard, Brooklyn's new running coach, says the Dodgers have been getting off on the wrong foot for years. When starting from off first base, he explains, most runners move the right foot first although they can't take a full step toward second until they bring the left around. So, why not start with the left?

New York, March 17.—Red Rolfe, St. Louis Yankees' star third sacker, apparently solved a problem that has been worrying him all spring when he made three hits against the Cardinals yesterday. His chief complaint has been that he never has succeeded in hitting well until June and he couldn't find an explanation for the failure.

New Orleans—Hal Trosky's heavy clubbing is bringing smiles to the face of Manager Steve O'Neill of the Cleveland Indians. The first sacker, hitherto a light hitter in spring training games, collected two triples in three times at bat in a 14-3 rout of the New Orleans club yesterday.

Tampa, Fla.—Cincinnati's Reds buckled down today to their final batting and fielding drill before their "Grapefruit league" opener with the New York Yankees. The teams clash tomorrow in St. Petersburg.

San Bernardino, Calif.—Manager Pie Traynor looked approvingly today at Morris Sands, the Pittsburgh Pirates' tall outfield recruit from Chatfield, Texas. Sands banged a ball over the fence and showed speed in chasing drives in yesterday's practice.

Pasadena—Jimmy Dykes worked the White Sox hard today, with pitchers using speed and curves. He is elated with general condition of the squad. Monty Stratton plunked on the knee by a line drive yesterday is expected to be back in action soon.

Avon—Mud and rain had Charlie Grimm and the Chicago Cubs in bad humor today. The club has had only four workouts. An extra club game was scheduled for today.

Winter Haven, Fla.—Pitchers dominated the batters in a Phillies' intra-camp game which the regulars took over the Ynnigans, yesterday, 2 to 0, in eight innings. Gene Corbett, guarding first base in the absence of Dolph Camilli, a holdout, helped the regulars win with a double.

Mexico City—The Philadelphia Athletics used four pitchers of the Agriculture Club for batting practice in a camp exhibition game which they won 24 to 5. Two homers were included in the 26 Mack-men's hits. Frankie Hayes went to bat seven times, drew three passes, slammed two doubles and a pair of singles for a 1,000 batting average.

Lakeland, Fla.—When the Detroit Tigers open their Grapefruit season against the Cincinnati Reds in Tampa Saturday, Tommy Bridges, Bengal ace, will do the hurling. Manager Cochrane believes Bridges is in better condition than the remainder of the pitching staff.

Daytona Beach, Fla.—Manager Frank Frisch ordered an intensive workout today to strengthen the Cardinal offense, as he prepared for the second game with the New York Giants here Thursday. Pitchers drew special attention, following a 5-2 defeat by the New York Yankees yesterday.

San Antonio, Tex.—With the return of favorable weather, the Browns settled down to hard work today. Hurlers Fred Blake, Lou Koupal and Alphonse Thomas had their curves breaking well.

Sarasota, Fla.—Manager Joe Cronin will inspect his current Red Soxers under pressure for the first time today when the regulars, coached by Herb Penrock, play a six-inning game with the Ynnigans, directed by Bing Miller.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—The Boston delegation in the Bees training camp awaited today's workout with mixed feelings. Milton's Elbie Fletcher was exhilarated over the homer and the two-bagger he belted in yesterday's exhibition game with the New York Giants but Pitcher Billy Weir, from nearby Melrose, was bemoaning his blowups in the fourth and fifth innings, New York won, 8-6.

Orlando, Fla.—The lineup for the Washington Nationals' try against the New York Giants confirmed today the general impression that Bucky Harris plans to replace Johnny Stone in the cleanup hitting role with Rookie Fred Sington.

AHOY, PUMPKIN BUTTES! GOLD RUSH COMING Gillette, Wyo. — (AP) — There probably will be another gold rush out Pumpkin Buttes way.

Mrs. Iva Frye of Gillette bought a chicken that came from a farmer there and when she opened it she found a gold nugget. A jeweler appraised it at $196. Mrs. Frye paid 50 cents for the chicken.

Several years ago a similar incident started a gold rush at the buttes.

REDS AIMING FOR FIRST DIVISION

Dressen's Boys Won't Be Easily Collared By Their Rivals

By Paul Mickelson

Tampa, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—There may be fireworks from the Rhineland sector this year.

Manager Chuck Dressen and his Cincinnati Reds, no longer league coormats, are aiming high. Give them a good right handed hitting outfielder, and some of the good pitching they have a reasonable right to expect and they'll wear no man's collar in the impending National league pennant fight.

Pitching is the big if, but it should be better than the brand used to give the Reds fifth place last season. Paul Derringer, a career man again after his matrimonial troubles, and Al Hollingsworth, whose arm went bad last July, will be the hurling mainstays. Eugene Schott, 23-year old right-hander who won 11 last season, and Ray "Peaches" Davis, complete Dressen's "Big Four."

The rest of his mound candidates have excellent possibilities for spot pitching duty. Among the leaders in the race at the moment are Benny Frey, a slow starter; Wild Bill Hallahan and Lloyd Moore, a righthander who won 20 and lost 5 for El Dorado in '36.

Dressen can't miss having a good infield. So far, it looks like the Red inner works will be composed of Les Scarcella, first; Alex Kamouris, second; Bill Myers, shortstop, and Lew Riggs at third.

Battle for Positions Charlie Gelbert, obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals, Jim Outlaw, a 330 hitter from Durham, will battle it out for reserve positions if they don't crowd someone out of the regular lineup.

The catching department will be three deep with Ernie Lombardi getting the regular call over Spud Davis and Bill Campbell.

Kiki Cuyler hardly can be expected to observe his 37th year by hitting .326 again in 1937, but no one has shown up yet to steal his job. Ki is labeled as the left or centerfielder with Ival Goodman a cinch for right. Phil Weintraub, who missed the 1936 International league batting championship by a whisker at Rochester, and "Double Joe" Dwyer, who did the same thing in the Southern league while with Nashville, have a big chance to crash the other outfield post.

Babe Herman is a holdout but the Reds have forgotten him—so they say, figuring he's all washed up and doesn't fit in their scheme. Don Brennan, the other Red irreconcilable is needed, however, for relief hurling.

NEWS!—FISH BITES MAN Prairie du Chien, Wis.—(AP)—Archie Mann cut a hole in the Mississippi river ice and was scooping out fragments when a large garpike bit his hand and held on until Mann jerked him out on the ice. The fish had taken a chunk out of his hand.

Bath county (Ky.) owes its name to the large number of mineral and medicinal springs found within its confines.

Basketball Rules Committee Studies Changes In Rules

Denver, March 17.—(AP)—Sixteen teams, hailing from ocean to ocean, swung into the third round of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament today and among them were all the top-ranking favorites.

Two rounds of rapid-fire play offering every variety of game from pitiful routs to split-second decisions failed to produce a single major upset, although there were more than a few scares.

Today nearly every game had a pronounced favorite. Exceptions included the battle between the potent Oakland, Calif., Golden State, and the undefeated Penn. Athletic club of Philadelphia.

Collect Sales Tax By Stamps Is Ohio Plan
1024 963 930—2917

Springfield, Ill., March 17.—(AP)—The Ohio plan to collect more sales tax revenues through stamps received administration attention today as Governor Horner started his budget balancing conferences.

Finance Director S. L. Nudelman said he had studied the proposal to use stamps to stop evasions in sales tax payments, but would leave the final decision to the governor. Estimates have been that the state is losing several million dollars a year because some retailers don't pay the full three percent on gross receipts.

Stamps would be sold to retailers, collecting the tax in advance, to be given to customers and cancelled at the time each sale is made. Senator Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton Republican made a similar proposal earlier.

But Mr. Horner's first attention was given to the biennial budget as the state's major elective and appointive officials were summoned to receive instructions that appropriation requests must be slashed. The provisional budget is $18,800,000 out of balance for the two years starting July 1.

The legislature's appropriation chairmen weren't included in the afternoon conference, but planned to have sub-committees starting hearings next week, working out specific reductions for the executive and judicial offices.

Women of Finland received the right to vote in 1908.

MANY UPSETS PROMISED IN STATE MEET

Distribution of Strength Best In Years

Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(AP)—The "sweet sixteen" of Illinois prep basketball teams, survivors of an original field of 849 quitters, start play tomorrow morning for the 1937 state high school cage championship.

Two games are on the morning program, with Vandalia opening the tournament at the University of Illinois gymnasium against Zeigler. A battle will follow between Athens, smallest school to send a team to the finals in point of enrollment, and Joliet, the largest enrolled school in the final test.

Galesburg and Wells of Chicago will open the afternoon card and will be followed by Collinsville and Carbondale. Woodstock goes against Oblong in the other afternoon game.

The evening program appears packed with dynamite. Pekin plays Rushville in the first game and then Dundee, winner of 37 out of 33 games this season, tackles the strong Moline outfit. The defending champion, Decatur, opposes LaSalle-Peru in the final battle of the opening round.

On past performances, this year's championship promises action and upsets from start to finish. Such teams as Proviso of Maywood, Paris, Fulton, Olney, Kankakee and Hillsboro, of which much was expected, fell by the wayside in sectional play, and the fact that they were eliminated testifies to the general strong distribution of strength among the finalists.

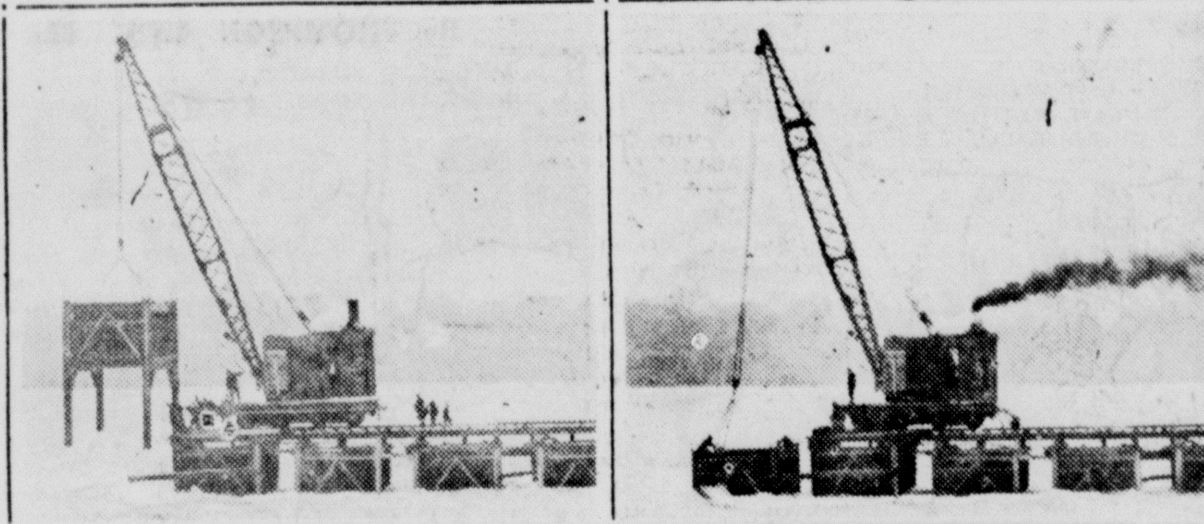

Moline, Dundee Strong The teams which will have strong backing to win the title, to be decided Saturday night, are Moline, Collinsville, Athens, Joliet, Dundee and Decatur.

Moline's veteran aggregation, making a fourth straight trip to the finals, has won 19 of 22 starts this year. Its first round opponent, Dundee, has one of the highest scoring records of any state team, getting more than 45 points in several games. Both of those teams whipped Decatur in scheduled tilts. But Decatur looked very strong in winning the sectional from Champaign, 27 to 10, and its zone defense held Champaign to three field goals.

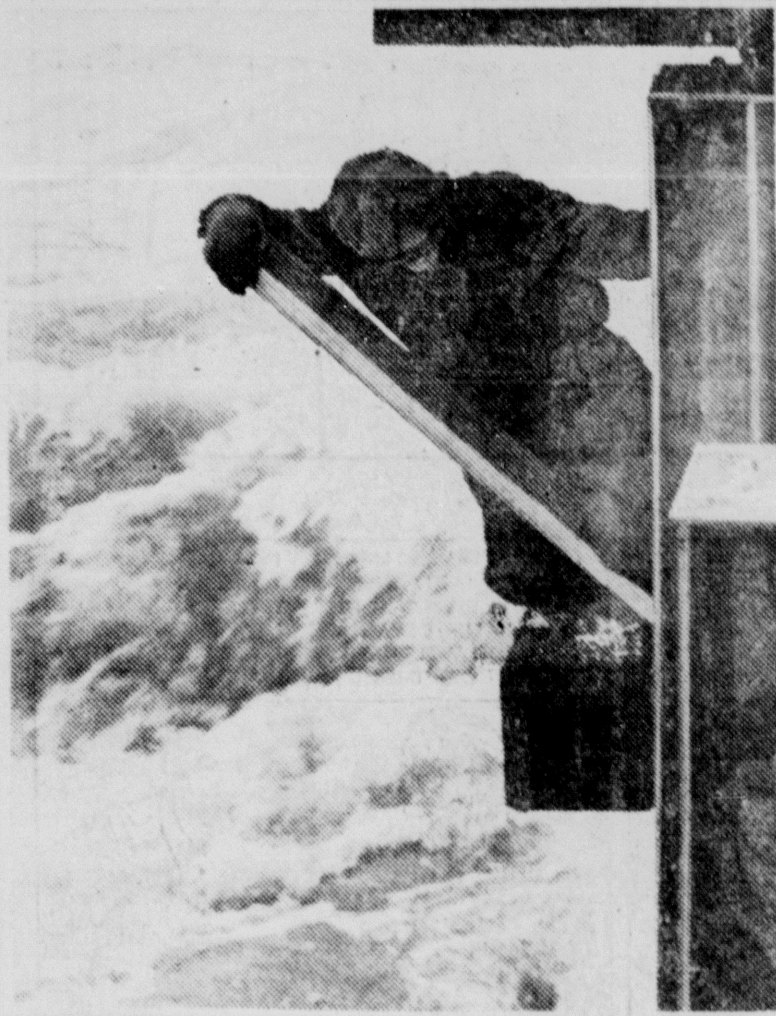

DEFYING DEATH TO EVEN THE WEAR ON MIGHTY NIAGARA'S HORSESHOE

Surgeons, rather than the patient, risk danger in this Niagara river operation to build a weir (1) which will distribute more evenly the water now fast eroding the center section of Canada's famous "horseshoe" falls. Already a temporary work pier (2) is angling upstream from the Canadian shore.

Once daily, a big derrick creeps out on the pier section already set, its dangling arm, left, gripping a four-legged crib. Carefully, the crib is swung into position and lowered, right, into the torrent. When the cribbing reaches midriver, work will start on the 810-foot submerged concrete weir. Sunk on bedrock, the weir will point upstream toward Goat Island, downstream toward Canada.

With foaming water directly below and the brink of Niagara Falls just a few yards off, this part of the job allows no slips. Defying death, Pete Griffin, a workman, stands on a narrow beam to make fast the outermost crib.

Another riverman, Wellington McLeod, braves danger on the project which also will divert water to power plant intakes.

From the swinging derrick boom, a worker gets this striking view of mighty Niagara. Never before have the falls been photographed from the viewpoint of a person caught in the river, being swept toward the brink seen in background.

STORIES IN STAMPS

THE American Revolution was nearing its climax in 1782, when France sent additional troops and ships across the Atlantic to help defeat the British. Cruising the West Indies, Count Francois de Grasse, French admiral, came upon a fleet of 30 warships under command of Admiral George Brydges Rodney. They fought for nearly 12 hours, and when the French hoisted the white flag Rodney had lost nine ships and 600 men, while nearly the entire French fleet was disabled. Some 3000 troops being transported by the French ships were killed, and 6000 were wounded, while De Grasse himself was captured. The victory saved the island of Jamaica for the English, and prolonged the American Revolution by delaying Cornwallis' surrender.

MACHINE CLEANS DRINKING GLASSES

Chapel Hill, N. C.—(AP)—There are no more "gray films" due to imperfect washing on the drinking glasses of the University of North Carolina's student cafeteria.

The managers, E. F. Cooley and C. V. Cummings, deciding this was the restaurateur's hardest problem, invented a bristle machine which washes both inside and outside simultaneously. Labor is cut in half, they say, working time cut 60 per cent, breaking glasses stopped and a one-eighth horse-power motor does it.

TRANSPLANT SHEEP'S SKIN IN WOOL EXPERIMENTS

Davis, Calif.—(AP)—In an effort to discover why wool on the hind quarter of a sheep is better than that on the shoulder, J. F. Wilson, University of California's expert, is transplanting the animal's skin.

The experiments, performed under anesthetic, are intended to show whether the difference is nutritional or hereditary.

GET CHANGED TO OIL-PLATING

Spring's here, but let's not put any loud "new suits" on all the old oil bogeymen. After all, botherless engine lubrication gets down to a few calm facts that are facts.

No. 1 . . . You want to be certain that your engine doesn't grind every time you start, while oil is "coming up" from below. Oil-Plating, produced only by Conoco Germ Processed oil, can never lose time "coming up," because it's already there!

For the patented Germ Process creates such a powerful attraction between oil and metal that the inside of your engine becomes Oil-Plated. And you know that platings aren't runny, but stay up in place. That's the way Oil-Plating will stay up to ward off all the worst starting wear you ever heard of.

And No. 2 . . . Whether you've got a "good old car" or the latest thing, you want to make any driving schedule without being nervous about the heat indicator and the oil level. You can easily keep them where they belong. This is exactly why: the Germ Process creates a far stronger normal type of oil film and then checks friction still further by means of modern Oil-Plating—entirely extra . . . exclusive to Conoco Germ Processed oil. Costs no more when you change; costs you less all season. Continental Oil Company

STATE ASSEMBLY STUDIES PLIGHT OF SHAWNEETOWN

May Convert Site to State Park, Move Town Inland

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 17.—(AP)—Governor Hoffman's signature made $500,000 available for flood relief work today, as the legislature's survey committee suggested a remedy for flooded Shawneetown's plight.

Although making no recommendations for appropriations anywhere in the flood area, the committee, in a report to the general assembly, pointed out Shawneetown could be relocated on higher ground if the state or Federal government would purchase the present site for a park.

The $500,000 appropriation bill which was sped through both Houses to meet immediate needs was signed by the governor last night.

It was sponsored by Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna Democrat, and other southern Illinois Representatives. The committee report was filed by Rep. Thomas J. Lenane of Quincy, chairman.

Purely Local Matter

Lenane's report said Shawneetown residents regarded the question of moving the city as a local matter. One of the oldest Illinois settlements, its site was suggested as a suitable park site.

The matter was left open for future consideration.

Economic and property loss was estimated at upwards of $75,000,000 by the committee, with approximately 33,000 persons made homeless in the southern Illinois flood area.

Recommendations by the Lenane committee included:

That the state agriculture department make an immediate survey of stock feed needs and that farmers be aided in starting spring planting.

That cities along the Ohio construct reservoirs to hold excess water and prevent flood stages by dredging adjacent low lands.

That highways 37 and 51 be relocated or elevated.

That the National Guard be provided with portable road sets for use in future emergencies.

That plans be devised for pumping water from mines, especially at Harrisburg where part of the city is in danger of sinking.

With more floods a spring possibility, the committee recommended that it remain active.

IL DUCE HITS NERVOUSNESS OF BRITISH

Tripoli, Libya, March 17.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini, referring scathingly to British nervousness over Italy's ascendancy in the Mediterranean, told a cheering throng of 100,000 today the Italian Empire had been forced to rearm to meet the re-armament threat of others.

While the guns of the massed Italian battlefleet boomed in the harbor of the prince's capital, Il Duce shouted:

"We rearm on sea, in the sky and on land because it is our imperious duty in the face of the armaments of others."

Declaring that such reports disturbed the peace of all peoples, Mussolini said "an alarmist campaign has been evident in the more or less great democratic countries over my trip to Libya."

"This neurasthenic alarmism, this sowing of suspected dangers, does not enhance the cause of peace because it profoundly disturbs relations between peoples."

The premier, paying his first visit to the Italian colony on the southern shore of the Mediterranean in 10 years, spoke from a huge pavilion erected high in front of the governor's palace on gigantic lictor rods—symbol of Fascism.

To Sing Here

HAROLD W. BALTZ

(Special to the Evening Telegraph)

Mount Vernon, Ia.—Under the direction of Prof. Harold Baltz, music conservatory head, the Cornell capella choir of 52 voices will sing the eleventh concert of its spring tour in the Dixon high school on Wednesday afternoon, April 7, at 1:00 P. M. For the second successive year, the choir is on tour throughout Iowa and Illinois, presenting sixteen concerts during the seven day trip.

In speaking of a Chicago concert given on tour last year, the Chicago Tribune said, "The women's voices, especially, have a restrained, otherworldly beauty that lent itself well to the sixteenth and seventeenth century sacred music." The program will also include modern music and Negro spirituals.

On the afternoon of April 5th, the choir will broadcast over station WGN Chicago. Besides the broadcast, the choir will sing five other concerts in Chicago.

The capella choir here is a part of a musical tradition at Cornell which includes an annual May Music Festival considered the oldest festival west of the Mississippi river and dating back thirty-nine years. Presented this year on May 6, 7 and 8 the Festival will feature the 100th concert of Dr. Frederick Stock and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra who have been giving ed to look beyond disappointment annual concerts at Cornell for 35 years. John Charles Thomas, world famous baritone, will sing at the festival.

KIDNAP MURDER OF A WEEK AGO IS CLEARED UP

Las Cruces, N. M., March 17.—(AP)—The slaying of Robert Aubuchon, 34-year-old Deming camp ground attendant, who was abducted a week ago tomorrow night, was written off today as solved.

Five persons, two arrested by federal agents and city detectives in Phoenix, Ariz., last night, faced murder charges filed here as the result of the slaying.

Emmett (Chuck) Powell, 23, and Walter (Buck) Smith, 37, formerly of Bloomington, Ill., were enroute here from Phoenix where Erwin P. Hair, chief of the federal bureau of investigation office, said they had confessed to being present when Aubuchon was shot.

In solitary confinement in county jail here were George Alfred Lord, Jr., who took officers to Aubuchon's body in a lonely lava bad lands, 22 miles south of here Monday; his 22-year-old wife; and brother, Delbert, brought here yesterday from El Paso where they were arrested.

Deputy Sheriff Jess Thorne of Deming said Lord's statement admitted Aubuchon had been abducted from Deming in a ransom plot and was shot when "the boys got sore when they found only small change and jewelry."

CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. Buxton of the Dixon Methodist church is speaking this evening at 7:30 on "Christianity and the Individual in a World of Crowds." This is a title of a book by Doctor Halford E. Luccock of Yale University. The public is cordially invited.

LEE'S A. M. E. MISSION
Lee's A. M. E. Mission is now soliciting funds, and advises that no money be given to anyone other than the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Enoh, or a member of the church who will have the book of 1000 names with them.

BRETHREN CHURCH
An interesting service was experienced at the pre-Easter service at the Brethren church last night. The pastor, Rev. William E. Thompson, spoke on the subject of "God's Love to Man," after a spiritual song service of gospel hymns. "Be- hold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God," was the text used as the speaker presented a message which pictured God's love as going out to all men in all ages, finding expression in Jesus Christ his son who said: "I am he that liveth and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore."

The impressed audience was urged to look beyond disappointments, sorrow and trouble and trust in him, who declared: "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Christ was presented as one who will lift our burdens, cheer our faint hearts, and forgive our sins, and the scriptures inform us there is no other name whereby men may be saved.

Tonight the subject of "Regeneration" will be considered and many questions concerning this interesting subject will be answered by the speaker. The Young Men's Bible class, taught by Roy Bowman will attend in a body. Thursday night, Rev. Paul Studebaker of Franklin Grove will be the speaker and the Crusaders Sunday school class will attend in a group. All friends of the church are invited to attend these services beginning at 7:30 each evening, except Saturday.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Good interest in the special Pre-Easter services at the First Christian church was manifested last night in a substantial increase in attendance over the previous evening. Mrs. Ora Tice and Mrs. Hazel Emmert sang a special duet entitled, "Under His Wings." The pastor, Rev. James A. Barnett, brought a message of conviction from the topic, "The Problem of Sin." He will preach at tonight's service upon "Divine Law in Conversion," and will make use of a chart illustration. Mrs. Tice will sing a gospel solo. The services continue nightly at 7:30.

THERMOMETER STOLEN.
Decorah, Ia.—(AP)—When some one stole the thermometer G. F. Baker had hanging outside his lumber yard, he didn't buy a new one. Instead, he hung this sign where the thermometer used to be:

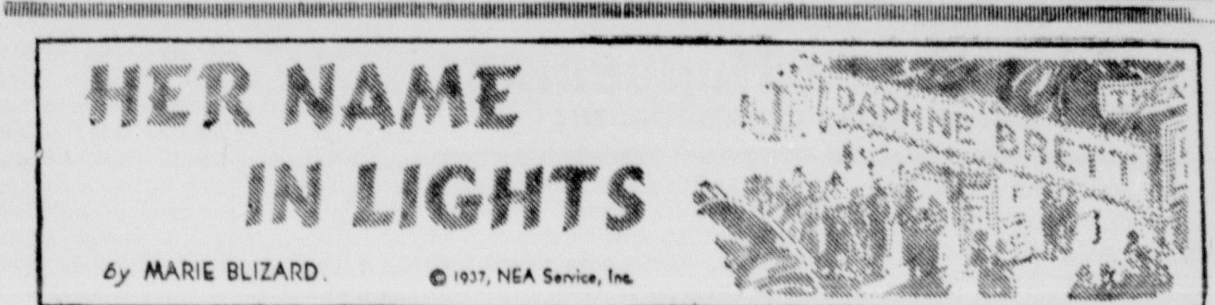

"We wish the pink-eyed pup that stole our thermometer would return it, as it was a present to us. The way you are heading it won't do you any good—it doesn't register hot enough."

MAKES HISTORY

Topeka, Kas.—(AP)—Lieutenant Governor William H. Lindsay is the first Democrat in the history of Kansas to wield a gavel in the state senate.

The state has had four Democratic governors since 1861, but no member of the party ever attained the lieutenant governorship until Lindsay was elected in 1936.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAPHNE BRETT loved LARRY SMITH, architect. Larry asked her to marry him. But Daphne had repeatedly refused because she wanted to lay aside sufficient money first to see Jennifer well launched on a career.

Jennifer had proved the selfish young sister, defying every wish and even going so far as to try elopement with TEACHER ALEX, a wealthy playboy. And then Jennifer met GORDON HERZBERG, famous theater man, and seemed to have found her right work.

One day, meanwhile, Daphne received orders from her advertising firm to make a two-months' sales tour of the country. At the same time Larry, ordered to Spain on a business trip, again asks Daphne to marry him. And Daphne refuses because she needs the bonus the trip provides for Jennifer. But this she does not explain to Larry.

Larry, of course, not knowing Daphne's real reason, decides she has chosen a career in preference to love. He says goodbye and he does not return. Daphne starts on her trip, broken-hearted. In Detroit she receives a girl friend's letter revealing Larry hadn't gone to Spain after all.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

DAPHNE BRETT sat on the wingchair of her hotel room in Detroit and read and re-read that letter.

Larry hadn't gone to Spain after all. If she had written to him before she left. If . . . if . . .

How many times that word had come between her and her thinking only to have her realize that it all went back to one clear thing: Larry hadn't understood her, hadn't believed in her or he would not have believed that her career meant more to her than her love.

Sometimes she couldn't believe it was true. But it was. Larry had said, "Then, this is goodbye." And it had been goodbye.

She tried not to think of it. Yet when she fell into her hotel bed or a Pullman berth on that cross-country trek, it was only to lie in the dark and ponder on the misfortune that has withered the beauty of her love.

ONCE her day had begun with breakfast on a train, in a hotel or in a railroad station lunch room, it was a mad scramble to assemble trunks and staff, to establish prearranged contacts with the shops showing her display.

It should have made her happy to tabulate the mounting sales that meant more money for her. But she wasn't. Because the place where those things are warm is in the heart and her heart was numb.

She had letters from Jennifer.

Brief, little notes. She had hoped before she left that Jennifer, in the excitement of her opening, would forgive that quarrel they had had two days before she left when Jennifer learned that Daphne had persuaded Tucker not to see her. Apparently she hadn't. Her notes were curt and merely passed on news about the apartment, the maid and the show.

Apple Blossoms had opened in Philadelphia and gone right into New York, rather disappointingly, since the Philadelphia critics had been enthusiastic about it. The New York critics hadn't been but the house was well sold and they had been running six weeks. It looked as though it would carry through the season.

DAPHNE was glad for Jennifer. Glad that one of the critics had noted the performance of a newcomer who appears to be adaptable and has a fresh beauty not seen on the New York stage in recent seasons.

Daphne wrote an encouraging note to Jennifer and applied herself to the problem of collecting trunks accidentally left in Duluth. Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Kansas City. Back to Chicago. Later to Detroit. Still later, Oklahoma City, Salt Lake City. Finally, Seattle and San Francisco and three months after she had left—it was now the end of November—the tour was over and Daphne was on her way home.

"Please meet me," she wrote Anne. "I feel horribly lonesome suddenly. Trip has been a success I think but now I'm itching to be home. Only I don't want to arrive all by myself. I've asked Jennifer but I'm afraid she'll be at the theater."

Jennifer was not at the theater because Daphne's train arrived at Grand Central in mid-morning. Jennifer was waiting for her. Jennifer in a green suit with a great collar and muff of cross fox.

"I had to do it, Daphne. If an actress doesn't dress, she gets nowhere. I suppose you know the show closed?"

"Did it?" Daphne asked as though Jennifer had said "the lights went out." Not at all important.

"Yes, but I'm not worried. Herzberg seems to be impressed by me. He keeps in touch with me and he has a new play I'm really intrigued with. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if he offered me the lead."

There is a wide list of good muskellunge lures to choose from when the happy old holiday rolls around and the muskie rod and reel has been oiled up for the trip out against His Majesty, Esos masquignony. Muskies fishing is a wide and far-flung sport for the angler. The range of the old Tiger Fish is so liberally spread out for the angler by a kind and considerate nature that it has become one of the main fishing issues of the times.

Among these many lures that are adapted for the muskie caster I know of none that are better intended for this brand of high-power bait casting than the ordinary straight type of wooden minnow.

The Wooden Minnow
Here we have a real all season muskellunge enticer. From the very first pop of the starter's pistol in the early part of July, when muskies usually are thrown on the open list in the various states and provinces of the muskellunge range, we find the wooden minnow a killer, and this continues on through until the ice has frozen out through the fringes of the lake and river shores and so prevents further enjoyable participation in the muskie game.

The straight type is my preference in these lures and the following fin-fishes or colors are also preferable. I have found, for the old tackle-smasher to take his rush after:

Natural Pike
Yellow Perch
Scale Finish
Golden Shiner
Solid black body and white head.

These types of straight wooden minnow with metal headpiece and from one to three treble or single hooks attached is one of the choice baits I have found for the summer, early fall and late autumn muskie caster. Use these without any sinker and cast them where there is a hungry or trouble-seeking old Esos masquignony and I assure you that there will be trouble arriving at the terminal end of the casting line mighty quickly!

Surface Minnows for Muskies
And also please don't forget that the surface minnow of wood with one or two whirling nickel-plated metal spinners attached for and it is another mighty impressive bid for good muskies, especially when this fish is out feeding in the wild rice, the rushes or the weeds along the lake coasts and river

Brief, little notes. She had hoped before she left that Jennifer, in the excitement of her opening, would forgive that quarrel they had had two days before she left when Jennifer learned that Daphne had persuaded Tucker not to see her. Apparently she hadn't. Her notes were curt and merely passed on news about the apartment, the maid and the show.

Apple Blossoms had opened in Philadelphia and gone right into New York, rather disappointingly, since the Philadelphia critics had been enthusiastic about it. The New York critics hadn't been but the house was well sold and they had been running six weeks. It looked as though it would carry through the season.

DAPHNE was glad for Jennifer. Glad that one of the critics had noted the performance of a newcomer who appears to be adaptable and has a fresh beauty not seen on the New York stage in recent seasons.

Daphne wrote an encouraging note to Jennifer and applied herself to the problem of collecting trunks accidentally left in Duluth. Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Kansas City. Back to Chicago. Later to Detroit. Still later, Oklahoma City, Salt Lake City. Finally, Seattle and San Francisco and three months after she had left—it was now the end of November—the tour was over and Daphne was on her way home.

"Please meet me," she wrote Anne. "I feel horribly lonesome suddenly. Trip has been a success I think but now I'm itching to be home. Only I don't want to arrive all by myself. I've asked Jennifer but I'm afraid she'll be at the theater."

Jennifer was not at the theater because Daphne's train arrived at Grand Central in mid-morning. Jennifer was waiting for her. Jennifer in a green suit with a great collar and muff of cross fox.

"I had to do it, Daphne. If an actress doesn't dress, she gets nowhere. I suppose you know the show closed?"

"Did it?" Daphne asked as though Jennifer had said "the lights went out." Not at all important.

shores in evening and early morning hours. This is a floating, surface-churning lure and one that brings in the muskie usually just before rains and at dawn and in evening where the pools shade off to a lily pad border or to weedy fringes.

The Spoon Hook for Trolling
Casting is not always the best way to fish for muskie, either, we have long since found out to our satisfaction, and the trolling plan many times rises fish that otherwise we might have gone home without. This method of muskellunge is especially good in the deep channels and over deep lake bars and reefs of the northern ranges. In this case, a good No. 7 size spoonhook with a bucktail or a feather covered set of trebles seems to strike deep into the fancy of the big gamester. Troll these spoons back of a slowly traveling boat or canoe and the chance of picking up a good muskie is very possible. The spoonhook accounts for a good share of each season's catch of muskie, but for trolling it is advisable to pick on a spoon not smaller than a No. 5 and not necessarily larger than a No. 7.

We learned Sunday that our good friend Will Holley passed his 15th birthday anniversary Tuesday the 9th. Mr. Holley isn't enjoying 000 toward a community building. If there ever was anything needed in this community it is just such a building. Our churches are the only places available for public amusements. There will be no doubt in a few years or less a change in the camp grounds, possibly no tabernacle. Where then are we to hold our Memorial day exercises? As we understand the higher rate of taxes will not really be a burden. We would feel sorry if it were. Times have changed, of course, since we older folks went to school. It is true we didn't have a gym and this and that, neither did we have the automobiles, electric lights and electric refrigerators we have today. If we want our school on the accredited list we must do the things required. If we fail in the election Saturday in two years all the money we have put in to make the school accredited will be lost.

CLASS PARTY
The Tri St class members were delightfully entertained with a St. Patrick's party Thursday evening, March 11, at the Methodist church. The hostesses of the evening were Miss Ethel Sheop, Mrs. Alta Schafer and Miss Blanche Lyford.

An interesting business meeting was held and plans for the coming months were discussed. After the meeting a social hour of Irish games was enjoyed. High prize of the evening was awarded to Mrs. Margaret Patterson, and consolation to Mrs. Lucy Ives.

Delicious refreshments were served which closed another happy evening.

Mrs. Miller has lived in this community all her life, and has a large circle of relatives and friends who will wish her many more happy birthday anniversaries, with health added to them.

The farm house of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Myers, near Oregon, was badly damaged by fire Sunday morning. The roof was nearly burned off. Most of the household goods were saved. Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers of this place. Their many friends in this community are hopeful that the loss may not be as much as first thought.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck of Chicago, and Dr. Chase of Dixon were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bill. Dr. Frank Thompson is a former Franklin Grove boy. He with his parents lived where Herman Kohl and family now live. He has just returned home from a hunting trip to Africa and his wife has just returned from Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Senfenberg of Mt. Morris were Sunday afternoon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cline.

Where We Stand
We have been asked a number of times why we have not made a statement in our items concerning the high school proposition. For or Against a Community Building. Our only reason for not doing so is the fact that we are not the owner, editor or publisher of any newspaper; we are only a two by twice correspondent of the only daily newspaper in the county and are proud of it. We stand first, last and always for the better of the community. We never have and are not now in favor of burdening anyone, especially the older people of town, with taxes. But we are up face to face with a good proposition. We have the promise of $3,-

24. This program has lately been given in hundreds of the most prominent churches throughout Illinois. People have even been turned away on account of lack of seating capacity. It has also been very highly recommended by ministers and churches.

Dr. S. Parks Cadman, former president of the Federal Council of Churches in America, said: "The King of Kings" is the best motion picture in the world today and no man, woman or child should miss seeing it. We urge all our people to give it their hearty support."

The International Church Entertainment association, under direction of Rev. M. Arvid Hydeha from Sweden, will present the program here. Rev. Hydeha has just returned from Europe where the program also is going in different countries.

No admission fee will be charged here, but a silver offering will be taken to meet expenses of bringing the film here. The doors will open at 6:45 and everybody is expected to be seated at 7:30 when the program starts. It is a sound picture.

Hausen Community Club
The Hausen Community club met Friday night in the school house west of town for a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Patch, who were recently married and have set-

Facts Every Voter Should Know
About the Community Building (Yearly Tax Cost)

A school district may borrow for building purposes only by means of a bond issue. The present proposition states that bonds may be issued by District No. 250 up to $15,000. This is the top limit set forth in the proposition to be voted on. Payment of principal over a 10 year period would mean an average yearly retirement of $1,500 of the bond issue. The interest on these bonds will run at 4 per cent and will figure up on the average to $350 in round numbers. The actual cost then each year of this proposed community building will really amount to an average figure of $1,850. As a voter and a citizen, will the many benefits of this proposed building be worth the $1,850 a year thus invested when you consider that this amount is levied on $2,-400,000 of property covering an area of 56 square miles.

Cost of the Building
The cost of the proposed building has been estimated at $17,000 which includes a separate heating plant, lighting and plumbing fixtures and the bleacher seats. The above estimate was made by a licensed state architect who specializes in designing school buildings. He has a record of consistently making these estimates with not over 5 per cent error. The proposed cost of our building is not out of line with those of neighboring projects even though these were erected under federal supervision. The following figures illustrate the point:

Lee Center gym—$9,400 (PWA project).

Lee school and gym—$17,000 (approximate cost of gym only).

Steward gym—$16,000 (PWA project).

Why Build Now
The present epidemic of "sit down" strikes serves as a timely warning that rapidly-mounting building costs will be here by next year. It would be wise economy to build now before "boom wages and boom material prices" become a reality. To further accentuate need for haste, it must be remembered that the cash donation offered now will be only given if the building is built this year.

Utica, N. Y.—(AP)—The frost on a railroad guard rail looked so tempting that 8-year-old Jerome Steates sought to taste it. His tongue stuck fast.

It took several minutes for firemen, summoned by Jerome's frightened companions, to heat the rail enough for the boy to pull his tongue away.
